Ladies' Auxiliary To Mark 25th Anniversary With Birthday Dance, September 14

Last time we went to press, we were busy cleaning up camp. There was so much ahead of us. Warriors' Day at the CNE and the whole bit. Gosh what a do that was! Our new pipe band was out in full force. With only two weeks practice what a show they put on! Can we mention the Color Guard and how smart they looked. Maybe they didn't win any prizes, but they sure won the hearts of all the members who saw and took part in the parade. At this point we would like to mention the World War I Vets who made that long hot march. Our hats are off to you boys.

After the parade we all trooped back to the armouries and partook of their noted hospitality. One thing is sure, it is nice to greet old friends from previous parades again. Their numbers get fewer with every passing parade. Upon returning to the Branch 375 that is — we doubly enjoyed sharing our own style of hospitality with members of Branch 426 Pipe Band, and other guests. What a ball! We would like to thank everyone who made this whole day possible.

Does anyone know what happened to our fair Rosemary? When we last saw her, she had a dilly of a mouse. Rumour has it that someone tossed a fast ball and our Roz forgot to duck. Come on back Roz, we're only kidding.

We always get a big bang out of sending happy birthdays, especially when knowing the people personally. August 17 was such a day for Miss Betty Rowley. Very special greetings go to Jack Sanders, Judge James Butler and his lovely lady who all celebrated their birthdays on August 29th.

A new season is about to begin and Branch 375 is going right along with it. Here are some of the highlights: September 11, 7 pm — All bowlers welcome at the ABC Lanes. The same fee as last year $2.00 is the rate for this year. September 14 — Free admission for all members and their guests to the Branch 375 Ladies' Auxiliary Birthday Dance. This is their 25th year and one they can well be proud of. Here's to you girls.

Another big party will be going on the same date, September 14, when members of the Color Guard and the pipe band throw their annual corn and weiner roast. This all goes at the Rummy Farm on Don Mills Road across from Halfway House. Could be we will meet you either at the ladies' do or the corn roast.

At this time we extend sincere congratulations to all the young couples being married this month. To Miss McClymont of Concord and Miss McKeage of Richmond Hill on their very special days. We can assure you all that they will be very beautiful brides. Another young lady joining with this group of lovelies is Miss Joanne Barrett. Here's a toast to each and every one of you.

School opens this week and youngsters will be once again learning their A-B-Cs. If you are driving please watch out for all of them. Some will have forgotten their safety rules; others will be starting school for the first time. May we all give them a chance to grow and enjoy this life of ours. Moms and Dads you may relax. Temporarily that is.

Have you been out to lunch lately? If not, why not drop around to the Legion and enjoy the hot lunches that the ladies prepare. We can assure you that you will not require any dyspepsia pills. Just bring your appetites and relax. We can tell you a wee secret. Since enjoying these meals, we find that we must bring a diet so that we are able to enjoy the rest of the season. Whooee! This past Friday night, the "Free and Easy" went with a swing. The Al Aylesworth Combo was as usual in fine fettle. Then, recalling the evenings at the old Hall, there was Freddie Bird giving with the vocals. We thank you Freddie for recalling those pleasant memories and hope that we may see more of you. Thanks to all who made the entire evening more enjoyable by joining in. May we have the pleasure of your company again next week. Before we put Betsy (our typewriter) to bed for another week, we send our good wishes to Mrs. Neilson of Stouffville who is taking a trip home to Finland for the next little while. May you have a very pleasant journey.

Horse Training Offered At Seneca

Classes in basic and advanced horse care as well as English riding are being offered during the day and evening at Seneca's King Campus.

Those who would like to get properly introduced to the horse can enrol in Carriage for Horses which provides students with a preliminary understanding of the horse world.

Also offered is a Practicum which is a hands-on course. It allows the rider or owner to combine the knowledge learned in the classroom with actual practice to acquire confidence in such skills as first aid, clipping, and transportation. These two subjects meet once a week for 10 weeks.

ADVANCED COURSE
For graduates of these programs, a series of Equine Workshops is offered. Each is 10 hours in length and deals with various specialties in the horse world. Experts in each field provide the teaching. This fall training, driving, blacksmithing and judging will be offered. For further information on Seneca's Equestrian program or any of the more than 150 other part-time subjects that begin in September, call 884-9901 or 895-1581.

BRADFORD: No member of Bradford council attended the second meeting of the Simcoe Georgian Task Force which is studying development possibilities in the county.
