Library
Commencing October 1, every Tuesday the Pre-School Story Hour will be resumed this year from 2-3 pm. It will include some stories, craftwork and once a month a film show for these little ones.

Mothers who have walked a distance may prefer to remain in the library to browse through the many books, magazines and circulars that our little library has to offer — or they may join other mothers in the popular "hourly Y" program which is being set up for their next door at Charles Howitt School.

For more information about the latter call June Burnie at 889-6739, who is co-ordinator of all local TAB programs.

Children's films will again be shown Saturdays from 10:30 am to noon, beginning October 5 and continuing every consecutive month throughout the winter.

The monthly high school program will again be featured Mondays 7-9 pm from October 7 on.

Students are encouraged to select their own films.

Mrs. Marg Collett of MacKay Drive, the assistant librarian, is responsible for the window displays. So if you have a hobby or craft you wish to share with the community it would be greatly appreciated as a temporary showpiece.

The utmost care while it is on display to the public is assured. You may phone Marg at home 889-2547 or at the library 889-2847.

We welcome our new branch library supervisor, Mrs. Jean McKeen, who comes from several years service with the main library and is well known in the "Hill" for her program with shut-ins. She will be very glad to assist you Tuesday-Friday 12 to 5 pm and 7 to 9 pm, again on Saturdays from 10 to 12:30 and 1:30 to 5. Otherwise phone her at 889-2847.

Theatre
Tomorrow night (September 26) is the first of another interesting film series on travel and adventure presented each winter season by Richmond Hill Rotary Club.

Raphael Green will be showing you "The New Israel" at Bayview Secondary School 9 pm sharp. This will be followed once a month (excluding November) by a "Grecian Odyssey", "Bolivia Adventure", "Yellowstone and The Tetons", and "Irresistible India" and winding up the season in March with "Heavenly Hawaii" (with warm, cheery scenes to enjoy after a long, cold Canadian winter).

For tickets phone Joe Horvat at 884-4644 or 884-6902.

Thornhill Exchange Student In Germany

September 2nd. I went to school with Godrun on this day. She has only girls in her school. No sorry, there are boys in the younger grades. Everyone here is so healthy. I sat with Godrun in her classes and tried to understand what the teachers were saying. Alas, I could not. Only in one class — that was English! I went to the front of the class and briefly told them about my life in Canada and the school system there. The girls listened attentively and I believe they understood most of what I said. They are friendly and also laugh at me. I just smile with them even though I can't understand what they say.

In English class they are reading American Short Stories. I read aloud one very good story to the class and there was a stir while I read so I think they enjoyed it. Incidentally, the stories were very hard to read. I couldn't pronounce many of the words. The English teacher is going to make a timetable for me. They are very understanding. I can do my schoolwork in their classes and I will not be on the regular timetable.

We take the streetcar to school and we walk a long way. The buildings in the school are old and picturesque. I have only been to school one day so far, so I cannot tell you more. School ends at 12 or 1:00 p.m. and then we either go home or shop etc. In the morning at 6:30 pm before school (I get up at that hour) we have cocoa and rye bread and jam. We are at school by 7:45 am. We leave the house at 7:00 am and walk to the streetcar, take that for a long way and then walk to school.

Daddy, last night I played tennis at a girl's house. She has two courts. Then we drank red wine and watched TV and four hours, then we come home for lunch (at breakfast Frau Scholl makes us a snack of a sandwich and fruit which we sneak during classes to keep us going. We have this in the same plastic bag everyday. No waste here! For lunch we have a cooked meal. The first day we had goulash and rice.

Oh, Gretchen, was right about the warm milk, but I have got used to it already. I don't eat the skin though! Then, if we are hungry during the afternoon we help ourselves to a snack. I have not needed to yet. At 6:00 pm we have our Abendessen. This is light. We have bread with cold meat, jam and cheeses. We have tea (no cream or milk in the tea). I like this way of eating. It agrees with me!

Daddy, last night I played tennis at a girl's house. She has two courts. Then we drank red wine and watched TV and read catalogues. She has the courts with the soft red surface. It was hard to get used to, the balls don't bounce. Tonight we are going dancing. The farmhand, Schmed, who is a black boy of around 20, is coming. He seems nice but doesn't speak any English.

This weekend we might go to the black forest with Godrun's brother if it doesn't rain. I have not seen him too much but he must be nice.

took me to the city library. It is huge. We walked for miles! I am walking so much these days.

Godrun and I went for a bike ride — on one bike! It was hilarious because I couldn't see in front of me as I was on the back holding onto her. I would see a fence in front of us and we would be going straight for it. I would panic and put my feet down. She would scream because the bike would jerk and then, as we fell off, I would see the opening in the fence directly in front of us.

We went shopping today and I bought some writing paper, envelopes, and postcards. Gut nein? Tomorrow I am going swimming with the class and on Friday we are travelling to Baden Baden to visit the art gallery.

Auf wiedersehen!
Love Julia.
