GO To End Barrie Train

The Barrie-Toronto commuter train on the Canadian National rail line through Newmarket, Aurora, King City and Maple, will be discontinued once the province begins its GO Richmond Hill, scheduled to begin in January, 1976, it was announced this week.

The commuter train, which carried about 125 return commuters each day, a number that grew to about 600 during the TTC strike, was ordered by the Canadian Transport Commission, a federal government agency, to start last spring.

Chairman Cameron McNab of the Toronto Area Transit Operating Authority says residents living north of Richmond Hill will be connected to the GO service by bus services that will make a trip from Barrie to Toronto faster than the existing train schedule of almost two hours.

Graphoanalysis, Parenting, Kindergym In Library Fun

North York Libraries have an impressive line-up of programs getting underway this fall, some in co-operation with the North York YMCA, and many of them free.

A discussion of graphoanalysis, the skill of analyzing handwriting, begins October 2, at 7:30 pm at Fairview Library, Don Mills Road and Fairview Mall Drive.

Discussion Leader Linda Pitney will explain and illustrate proven scientific methods of examining personality and character through the study of handwriting.

Mrs. Pitney, who works for the police and the courts explains, "Used in many areas from child guidance to forgery detection, this visual eavesdropper is one key to understand today's mixed-up, misunderstood society." There is no admission charge.

Parent effectiveness training begins at three locations, Bathurst Heights, Willowdale and Brookbanks Libraries the first week in October.

It is designed to teach the skills of communication between parent and child based on the concepts of encouragement, mutual respect and co-operation. For registration information contact the adult education and extension department at 638-7100.

"Municipal Elections 1974" will be the topic for an eight-week course at Willowdale Library, 5126 Yonge Street. Co-sponsored by the North York YMCA, the course is designed to answer questions in the minds of the public related to the "orthcoming December elections."

Sessions are scheduled for Mondays from 8 to 9:30 pm beginning September 30. For information regarding fees and registration call the 'Y' at 225-7773.
