Bride's uncle assists in pretty October Hill - Maple wedding

A very pretty autumn wedding was solemnized October 19 at 2 pm at St. Matthew's United Church Richmond Hill, when Heather Jean Rintoul, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Rintoul, was joined in holy matrimony in a double-ring ceremony to John Ward Studdy eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Studdy of Maple. The church was decorated with baskets of white, yellow and orange gladioli and white, bronze and yellow chrysanthemums and greenery. The pews were marked with white satin ribbons with a cluster of tiny dried orange flowers.

The ceremony was conducted by the pastor, Rev. John McTavish, who was ably assisted by the bride's uncle, Stanley Beerworth of Coaticook, Quebec. Traditional wedding music was played by Mrs. Peggy Renshaw at the organ.

The bride was radiant in a white gown of polyester sheer nylon over net and taffeta, made on Empire lines, with a mandarin collar, A-line skirt with two wide flounces at the bottom edged with French guipure lace. The full bishop sleeves ended in a wide cuff fastened with tiny covered buttons. The bodice, collar and sleeves were trimmed with guipure lace and matching flower appliques. Her full-length veil with cathedral train was edged all around with the same lace and held by a matching headpiece. She carried a cascade bouquet of orange sweetheart roses, white miniature carnations, Fuji mums, baby's breath and ivy.

The bride was attended by Miss Marilyn Mosher of Peterborough, as maid of honor, while the bridesmaids were her cousin Miss Sandra Beerworth of Coaticook, Quebec, and Miss Sonja Van Es of Thornhill. They were gowned alike in soft tangerine jersey, made with a shirred bodice, square neckline, empire waist, A-line skirt and long sleeves. They wore matching shoes and champagne colored floppy hats. They wore pearl necklaces, gifts of the bride, and carried nosegays of shasta daisies and baby's breath in-

Guests were present from Winnipeg, Manitoba; Roxboro; Pointe Claire and Coaticook in Quebec, as well as from various points in Ontario.

The young couple will reside on Essex Avenue, Richmond Hill.
