

Hill Civic Improvement Committee's all-candidates meeting Nov. 27

The Civic Improvement Committee of the Town of Richmond Hill has had to postpone the all-candidates meeting originally planned for November 21 due to the annual town's awards dinner being scheduled for that evening.

Sam Langhammer of Yonge Street Road, a member of the committee, has now made the necessary arrangements for this meeting to be held November 27 at 8 pm in Hillcrest Auditorium. All candidates seeking the support of eligible voters in South Richmond Hill are invited to speak.

Do please make the effort to come and hear what these people who would like to be your representatives at the Richmond Hill and Region levels have to say.

Mr. Langhammer informs me letters have been sent to all candidates informing them of this new official date.

Senior citizens
All the seniors are working hard and eagerly looking forward to their Christmas party December 11 at 12:30 pm in the Lions' Hall, 31 Spruce Avenue.

Church news
'Christmas at Carrville' is the theme of the CW's annual bazaar to be held in the United Church on Rutherford Road (an extension of Carrville Road) just west of Bathurst.

Sewing, knitting, plants and a white elephant table will offer many gift selections for all ages — and to please the palate lots of homemade baking will be available. A draw will be made for a beautiful hand-made quilt, so be sure to be there November 23 from 2 to 4 pm. Afternoon tea will be served. There is ample parking space beside the church.

A reminder from Emmanuel ACW that their Poinsettia Tea and Bazaar also takes place November 23 from 2 to 4 pm. Tickets, despite inflation are still only 50 cents and I'm told that their standards for the tea court, bake sale, etc. are as high as ever.

There will be the usual gift boutique, white elephant table, children's corner and something new — the youth group are selling fancy candles and homemade bread, the results of their own efforts. So do drop in and buy some goodies for the family's weekend needs, do some Christmas shopping and have a visit with a friend or neighbor over a cup of tea.

RICHVALE RECORD

Correspondent — MRS. MARY WATTS

For further information or donation please call Conventor Sheila Craig 889-1627. Many work evenings have taken place preparing for this event, keeping everyone active.

The Emmanuel Anglican parish dinner November 10 proved to be a successful and happy affair with a record attendance.

To conclude, I might add that what you don't see at one bazaar you might find at the other, and as they are both in the same area, try to support them both and make it an enjoyable afternoon.

Hospital auxiliary
The Richvale Branch of the YCHA will hold its next meeting at the home of Mrs. Marion Mitchell, 23 Orton

Crescent, November 27 at 8 pm.

Hockey
Interlocking house league games with Oak Ridges teams are now under way, providing the Richvale teams with more competition.

A reminder about the dance November 23 at the Lions Hall, Centre Street East, Pat Maheu 889-4504 has tickets for this event and tickets at $5 a chance on a trip for two to Nassau (all expenses paid) may be obtained from her or from me. Don't delay in buying one of these as they are limited to 500.

Lionettes
Richvale Lionettes are holding a tea and bake sale tomorrow night (November 21) from 8 to 10 pm at the Lions Hall, 31 Spruce Avenue. $1 will include teacup reading with Mrs. Rhitta Alexander (one of our senior citizens) who appears each year by popular request. Our neighbors come every year from far and near to hear her predictions.

News from next door

NEWMARKET: Anonymous death threats have been made in a barbershop at Upper Canada Mall because it stays open longer than other town shops, it is claimed.
