

Torch Light Ball will aid local hospital

Members of XI Beta Rho Chapter, Beta Sigma Phi Sorority, are busy preparing for their Torch Light Ball to take place November 30 in Richmond Hill Lions' Hall, Centre Street East, Richmond Hill.

Recent activities of the chapter include a visit to the IODE bazaar at the St. Lawrence Market, a trip to Stratford to see "Love's Labour's Lost". They are planning a theatre night and a tour of the late Col. R.S. McLaughlin's Oshawa mansion.

Community services have involved the big job of processing most of the money collected by Richmond Hill school children in UNICEF boxes, distributing, picking up and opening the boxes, sorting, rolling and depositing the coins.

The dance, which will include music by the popular Group of Four and a roast beef dinner, is being held to raise funds for York Central Hospital. Pictured above, (left to right) Mrs. Glenna Taylor, Mrs. Maureen Sommerville and Mrs. Joan Morreau are making ornaments and centrepieces to decorate the hall and tables. Tickets at $15 a couple may be obtained from Mrs. Morreau, 884-4778.

Daybreak topic for York UWC

Stephen Newroth, director of Daybreak, a home for mentally handicapped adults, will be the speaker at the monthly meeting of York County University Women's Club Monday at 8:30 pm at Kingcrafts House, King City.

In 1966-67 Mr. Newroth and his wife, Ann, worked in France with Dr. Jean Vanier at the L'Arche project, a village with cottage homes for the mentally handicapped. In 1969 Dr. Vanier visited Richmond Hill to wish the Newroths well in the opening of Daybreak on Yonge Street at the north end of town.

For further information about the meeting or the club call Janet Fayle, 884-3348.

DUPLICATE BRIDGE
Duplicate bridge club winners November 11 north-south were Ruth and Gerry Browning first, Bob and Edna Dunn second, George and Ann Payment third; east-west Stewart and Marie Cole first, Fred and Cleta Dieken second, Rose Morrell and Grace Saunders third.

Winners November 13 were Marg Davis and Heather Burling first with Rita Parisella and Sharon Mencil tied with Edyth Turp and Ev Dickie for second place.

Friday north-south winners were John Leonard and Freda Abercrombie first, George and Ann Payment second, Kathy Millree and John Hall third; east-west Fred and Cleta Dieken first, Florence Laundry and Al Lehman second, Nick Bruno and George Newton third.

There will be a Swiss team tournament Friday — please register in advance. On November 27 there will be a charity game of rubber and duplicate bridge with proceeds to go to the mental health association. For information call Marie Cole, 773-4280.

The York Regional Symphony Orchestra wishes to announce that the response for their December 14 Candlelight and Wine Concert at King City has been overwhelming. All tickets are sold out. The next concert will be January 23 at St. Andrew's College, Aurora.

Terry-Ann Wetmore was guest of honor at a trousseau tea at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Wetmore, Pearson Avenue, Saturday. About 40 guests attended. In charge of the tea table were Mrs. Miriam Tucker, 79, a long-time family friend, and Mrs. Annette Ranieri, grandmother of the groom, John Ranieri, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Ranieri, Osiris Drive. The wedding will take place Saturday in Our Lady Queen of the World Roman Catholic Church.

The Richmond Hill Youth Concert Band wish to thank all who assisted in making their concert, "Music for Listening" such a success. In particular they would like to thank their guest artist Barb Fenn at the Thomas organ, Mayor William Lazenby and Kerry Gilmore, their master of ceremonies, and last but not least, the staff of "The Liberal" who are always willing to help their every venture.

Old and new residents of the Hill are interested in what is going on in the community — service clubs, church groups, social happenings. Keep them informed through "It's Happening In The Hill".

Items for inclusion in the current issue of "The Liberal" should reach Social Editor Margaret Lade, 10101 Yonge Street, Box 390 Richmond Hill, by 10 am on MONDAY.

Children in hospital need toys

The pediatric department at York Central Hospital needs more equipment, toys and craft items for the increasing numbers of children being admitted with the opening of the new Langstaff Wing.

Items such as playpens, high chairs, kindergarten sets of tables and chairs, wagons, paint easels and blackboards; washable toys and building blocks; kindergarten scissors, paste, construction paper, non-toxic paints, crayons, chalk and pencils cannot all be purchased from the department's limited financial allotment.

For further information contact Mrs. Pauline Morse, pediatrics head nurse, or Mrs. Joyce Studdy, director of volunteers, at the hospital, 884-1171.

Sympathy is extended to Mr. and Mrs. Sam Cook and family of Gretel Drive on the passing November 13 of Mr. Cook's mother, Mrs. Ethel Cook, recently of Metro, formerly of Ottawa. The funeral service took place Friday in Mississauga with interment Saturday in Beechwood Cemetery, Ottawa.

Buster Vermeulen of Centre Street East and his eldest son, James, have been visiting Mr. Vermeulen's parents in Benoni, near Johannesburg, South Africa. They also spent some time in Cape Town with friends and relations, returning by the famous Garden Route to Port Elizabeth.

At the same time, Buster's wife, Monica, was entertaining his cousin from Johannesburg in Richmond Hill. David Collin was in Metro for the conference of the Diamond Wheel Institute of the U.S.A. where he was reading a paper to the conference.

Mrs. Vermeulen, public relations chairman of the Richmond Hill Ecumenical Choir, is now initiating a fund-raising campaign to help finance the choir's major performance of Mendelssohn's "Elijah" in the spring.

Currently the choir is preparing for its Christmas Concert, which will be performed at Richmond Hill United on December 7 at 8 pm.

Directed by Ron Scott and produced by Beryl Forrestal, the play opens November 29, and special rates are being offered for students for Wednesday performances.

For tickets and information call Jane Foley, 889-3967.

It was a beautiful sunny afternoon Saturday for St. John's Baptist Poinsettia Tea and sale. The room was decorated with red and white cloths and poinsettia and candle centrepieces. Mrs. Helen Gouzo and her three waitresses kept the hungry crowd well served.

The bake table with Mrs. Ruth Tatum and Mrs. Ruth Clark in attendance was almost sold out. Mrs. Phyllis Allison and her helpers had a successful children's and nearly-new room and Mrs. Mildred Kirchen and Mrs. Betty Harris presided over a decorations and handwork room containing many beautiful articles. Those who worked long and well before and after the event feel well rewarded by the success of the venture.

The next meeting of AMO (a morning out) group will be held November 27 at Richmond Hill United.

It's all signals "Go" for "An Inspector Calls", playwright J.B. Priestley's modern classic set in 1912, opening this month at the Curtain Club Theatre.

The play centres around a very proper family confronted by a police inspector who involves each member in an examination of their lives and fears.

Candlelight wedding for Deborah Wood and Stephen Fifield

Mary's Anglican Church was the setting on the evening of October 18 when Deborah Wood and Stephen Fifield exchanged marriage vows in a candlelight, double ring ceremony conducted by Rev. Bernard Barrett.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ross Wood of Aminer Drive and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Fifield, Altamira Road, Richmond Hill.

To the strains of "The Wedding Song" played by Dr. Denis Stainer, the bride entered the church on the arm of her father, accompanied by the groom's sister, Marie Fifield, as maid of honor, Susan Gubby as bridesmaid, and the bride's sister, Sandy, as junior bridesmaid.

The bride's gown was of heavy ivory satin with applique panels of lace, fitted bodice, high neckline and long, flowing train. A tiara of lace held her billowing veil.

Her attendants were gowned in autumn prints of emerald green and burnt orange, while the junior bridesmaid wore soft orange. All wore wide-brimmed burnt orange hats and carried nosegays of autumn flowers and wheat.

Best man was Wayne Martin. Ushers were Allen Lewis and Jim Fifield, brother of the groom. The male members of the wedding party wore brown tuxedos and gold shirts.

During the signing of the register Dr. Stainer played the Love Theme from "Romeo and Juliet".

Among the guests at the wedding and the reception for 60 at Summit View Gardens were the groom's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. William Fifield and Mr. and Mrs. Howard, all of Richmond Hill, and the bride's grandfather, Jim Wood.

For their honeymoon flight to Paradise Island, Nassau, the bride wore a brown pant suit trimmed with ivory cotton lace and brown accessories. They are now living in Downsview.

Country Place annual bazaar date changed

ATTENTION
Country Place Nursing Home, 18th Avenue, Richmond Hill, will have its annual bazaar and bake sale November 30, NOT November 23 as previously announced, from 2 to 5 pm. Items offered for sale have been made by the residents, and everyone is welcome. For information call 884-9248.

Baby bonus winner

Mrs. Lillian Nelson, 241 Neal Drive, Richmond Hill, was the lucky mother in the October Kresge baby bonus draw. She is seen above with store manager John Toutoure receiving a cheque for $120 extra spending money. To qualify for the draw Mrs. Nelson cashed her October baby bonus cheque in the amount of $120 at the S. S. Kresge Store in Richmond Heights Centre, filled out a form and deposited it in the box provided. When her name was drawn, the store matched the amount of her cheque.

By following Mrs. Nelson's example you could be the lucky winner in November and have extra money to spend for Christmas.

FREE CALENDAR

The Unionville Home Society was organized in 1967 to provide care in comfortable surroundings for the elderly of the community. From it Union Villa was born; an imaginatively designed residence with accommodation for 162 residents. The Society is presently seeking additional members. As an inducement to join it is offering a unique gift — "Our Toronto Calendar 1975", (which ordinarily sells for $2.95) with a donation of $5.00 the calendar is free along with annual membership in the Society. All Contributions are tax deductible.
