

RICHMOND HILL CURLING CLUB

By RON TAYLOR - 884-7817

The Ladies section held their annual Stephenson Borspiel last week and after two days of fun and competitive curling, the trophies were presented to Sylvia Brown and her rink of Blanche Leslie, Doreen Meeres and June Beaumont. Losing only one game and finishing runner-up in the first event was Ruth Ellison's rink of Colleen Alexson, Doreen Cole and Gwen Hamilton.

Winner of the second event was Joan Taylor and her rink of Dorothy Hobson, Helen Glover and Etta Riley. Runner-up to Joan was Barb Neely and her team of Bette Wright, Sue Supra and Barb Grimshaw. Third event winners were Edith McColl, Genie Greenham and Joanne Bloxam, skipped by Marcella Bird. June Bush curled for Marcella in the final two games. Doris Vance's rink of Keitha Matheson, Bev Major and Berta Numeyer were runners up.

In the fourth event, Pat Friesen, with Gina Morlock, Donna Carroll and Marg Whelan edged out Blanche Reid and her rink of Win Simpson, Pat Clemmens and May Baillie.

Xmas boutique
The Business Girls and Ladies Sections combined their talents and efforts last Saturday and presented a Christmas Boutique between two curling games of eight ends each.

The winning rinks of Dorothy McGregor and Barb Miller were skipped by Helen Schenoff in the first game and by Ruth Taylor in the second. Second prize went to Janny Kriens and her rink of Penny Kovanagh, Marion Cooke and Dianne Edwards.

The boutique was sponsored by the Business Girls and featured such items as plants, arts and crafts, preserves. The home baking table was a complete sell out.

Hicks undefeated
Dalt Hicks still remains undefeated after five games in the Monday night league with Paul Welsh second with three wins and two losses, strangely enough the remaining six teams have identical 2-3 records with only two more games to go.

In the second division, Gord Brown, Mike Mulcahy and Jim Anderson all have four wins and one loss. Ken Rowan leads the third division with five wins with Don Brayshaw and his rink close behind with four wins and one loss.

Clark Bullock remains undefeated on Tuesday night while Thursdays leaders are Jim Anderson

Family property law workshop at Seneca

Seneca College at its King Campus will be repeating the Workshop on Family Property Law tomorrow (Thursday) at 9:30 am, 1:30 pm and 7 pm. This will be part of the observance of Community College Week and the public is invited to visit the King Campus and attend one of these sessions.

The decision of the Supreme Court of Canada in the case of Irene Murdoch, the Alberta rancher's wife, made national headlines and caused a great deal of concern among Canadians about inequalities in the law. This decision reversed one by the Supreme Court of Alberta which had ruled that Mrs. Murdoch had no equity in the ranch.

Since 1964 the Ontario Law Reform Commission has been reviewing legislation and the Report on Family Property Law has now been tabled. Public reaction to proposed changes will be sought before appropriate legislation is passed, is the promise of Attorney General Robert Welch.

Mc Michael Collection now open year — round

The McMichael Canadian Collection in Kleinburg is now open the year-round. In December the regular hours are 12 noon until 5:30 pm. The gallery will be open during these hours Boxing Day and New Year's Day, but will be closed Mondays and Christmas Day.

A rural treasure house of Canadiana, the McMichael Collection offers a rare opportunity to enjoy the vivid art of the historic Group of Seven and their contemporaries, Indian and Eskimo art, furnishings and artifacts of pioneer Canada. The 30 gallery rooms are constructed from hand-hewn timbers and native stone. They are ideally located on a natural sanctuary on the crest of the Humber River Valley.

In the gallery shop, colorful reproductions of paintings, books on Canadiana and art, as well as unusual artifacts made by local craftsmen are available. A hearty lunch or afternoon tea is served in the wood panelled dining room.
