

School boards hold inaugurals

School news
The 1975 Inaugural meeting of the York County Board of Education was held at Aurora High School January 7, to which the public was invited.
King members of the board for the next two year term will be Margaret Coburn and Dorothy Zajac. Representing Aurora will be Norm Weller. Separate school representatives (who vote only on secondary school matters) are John Raniowski and John Stephens. Inaugural meeting for the Separate School Board was also held January 4th at Our Lady Queen of the World Church Hall in Richmond Hill.
The meeting was largely ceremonial with only two items of business to be conducted, being the election of a chairman and vice-chairman, and the setting of the regular meeting dates for the next year. Trustees Margaret Coburn and Doreen Quirk were appointed to plan the program for the inaugural.

Church news
Prayers were asked at Sacred Heart Roman Catholic Church recently for John Jones in Sunnybrook Hospital, Florence Marsh at York Central Hospital, also for Ann Lawlor and Bill Hermer.
Sympathy is extended to the family and friends of Wilhelmina Molevelt, wife of Peter who passed away just before Christmas; and for Mary Nasheda who passed away at King City Lodge; and for Adelina Ricci, grandmother of Rudy Ricci.

Altarboys at Sacred Heart over the holiday season were Barry VandenHeuvel, Chris Ludlow, Michael Pelouquin, Larry Filicetti, Richard Vandeburg, Jim Sapi, Brian Graham, Carlo Perri, Phil VandenHeuvel, Iain Gilmour, Robert Cross, and Mauro Scodeller.
Father Frederick, OSA, expressed his warmest and sincerest thanks in his weekly bulletin to the members of Sacred Heart's Parish Council, to the readers, ushers and altarboys, to Arnold Langbo, organist, and Dan McCarthy, director of the congregational singing, to the people who helped decorate the church for Christmas, to the ladies who keep the church clean and tidy, to Florence Cain for taking care of the religious articles, and to Mrs. Larry McCormick who looks after the altarboys' cassocks.
A surprise envelope appeared in the Christmas collection at Sacred Heart containing $20.06. Inside was the message: "We went carolling Monday night and were given this money. Father, put it to good use!" Signed: Pat Crisante, Marie and Michele Lenhardt, Janet Vanchuck, and Anne Pynenburg.
A special thanks at this time of year to Mrs. Dorothy Cheyne who faithfully mails us the Sacred Heart bulletin each week.
At the library
Two books you may enjoy from the "New Book" shelves at King Public Library are "Canada Before Confederation" by R. Cole Harris and John Warkentin, published by Oxford University Press, 1974. Strangely enough, the general editor of this well produced documentary is a member of the faculty at the University of Wisconsin, Andrew H. Clark.

Referred to as "a study in Historical Geography", the book has 338 pages and contains many charts, pictures and maps of early pioneer days.
Joined the King Library on December 21st, 1974 under file No. 330.971.
Certainly not a book for the typical male chauvinist is Emily Hahn's "Once Upon a Pedestal" published in New York by Thomas Crowell Co. in 1974. An author of at least 19 other books, Ms. Hahn has used this book to itemize the development of women's liberation. She refers to being on that pedestal "no matter how gilded" as being "dehumanizing".
There are 280 pages delving into such titles as Whistling Girls, All Men Would Be Tyrants, Utopia, and Strange Bedfellows. Now in King Library under file No. 301.412.0973.
Two new Canadian Chromalox air conditioning units have arrived at the King Library to insure your winter comfort while browsing. Real cool at the library this summer!
Also new at the Library is the selection of classical recordings available for loan. One album or three singles may be borrowed at one time for two weeks.
The selection included Tchaikovsky's Symphony No. 2 in C Minor "Little Russian"; Dvorak's Symphony No. 4 in G Major; Mendelssohn's Streichquartette; Haydn's Symphony No. 31 in 'D' Major, No. 19 in 'D' Major, and No. 45 in 'F' Sharp Minor; and Beethoven's Quartette No. 10 in 'E' Flat, Opus 74, and No. 11 in 'F' Minor, Opus 95.

Story cassette tapes of the Little Mermaid, Hansel and Gretel, the Little Lame Prince, American Tall Tales, Fairy Tales of Ireland, and African Village Folk Tales are available for children.
Parent effectiveness
Beginning January 21, the Parent Effectiveness Training course sponsored by the Richmond Hill and Thornhill Family Services, will again present an eight week session at the King Library. Instructor will be Mrs. Ruth Jackson. Each session will be from 7:30 until 10 pm. Cost is $20 single; $35 couple. There is the permissive way, the authoritarian, and the effective way. Discover - how to listen so kids will talk to you; how to talk so kids will listen; how to change unacceptable behaviour; and how to avoid being fired as a parent.
Exercise
The King Township Public Library and King Township Recreation are offering Exercise to Music. Move and dance your way to Fitness. The course begins today and runs until March 12. Wednesday mornings at the library at 10:30 am. Fee is $4. Instruction by Lisa Millar.

New Year's Day.
Keith Cambden of King City was guest speaker at the church service Sunday morning in the absence of Rev. Thomson.
Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred James and family had Christmas dinner with Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Frances of Oshawa.
The afternoon unit of the United Church Women will meet at the home of Mrs. Arthur Thomson, Dunning Avenue, Aurora, January 16, at 2 pm.
Faulkner and family of Windsor spent New Years with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Don Chalk, Bathurst Street, and Mr. and Mrs. Albert Faulkner of Aurora.
Mr. and Mrs. Everett Phillips entertained friends at a New Year's Eve party, and members of the Phillips and Beynon families during Christmas week.
Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Jennings, Aurora entertained 24 members of the Jennings and Faulkner families at their home on thrown me into a new environment - downtown Toronto where the horizon and sub-levels are changing daily. And after working predominantly in Montreal and Northern Ontario for the last 10 years, I can enjoy the multi-race changes of our nearby Metropolis.

The TTC Subways are such a variety of commuters, encompassing all nationalities, and races, with each person adding to the scene with their own color of skin and attire. At times the various languages spoken are so intense that I wonder if I am, in fact, in what I knew as WASP land.

Where else but in Toronto would you see a white girl giving up her seat to a negro man. But that was the case recently when a rather attractive young lady (Caucasian) noticed a tall black fellow carrying a small baby in his arms enter the crowded subway car.
As he stood before her, weaving back and forth with the movement of the transit vehicle, she reached forward and tugged his sleeve while rising to offer him her seat. With a somewhat surprised look of thanks he accepted.

Annual Christmas pageant at King City nursery

Cherubic angels, sparkling with tinsel and shy smiles, stalwart shepherds bearing cuddly toys and blankets, a wee drummer boy, the three kings with crowns of gold on their heads and of course Mary and Joseph surrounded the Baby Jesus in his cradle - all were at the annual Christmas pageant of King City Cooperative Nursery School. The youngsters sang simple children's Christmas Carols while enacting the scenes of the nativity. The large audience composed of proud mamas, grandmas and a few fathers were enthusiastic in their appreciation of this presentation of the Christmas story.

Crafts, films, speakers at Take-A-Break

Oak Ridges - Lake Wilcox

The Take-A-Break program, sponsored by the local YWCA, will hold its first meeting of the 1975

The Carrville UCW was to meet last night at the home of Mrs. Helen Baker. The guest speaker was Mrs. Stewart Rumble who is president of the United Church Presbyterial. Mrs. Rumble is a sister of one of the members, Mrs. Madelaine Howarth. The new executive was to be installed at this meeting and Mrs. Eleanor Veitch who was acting president takes the chair as president.
Neighborhood notes
Walter and Elaine Macdougall of Dufferin Street were very happy to have their new home for Christmas. Harold Ian was born on August 30 weighing 1 pound, 12½ ounces. He came home from the hospital on December 10 weighing a great big 6 pounds.
We had a busy Christmas at our house with four generations present. My parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Hawkshaw of Cornwall, were here. We also had our 10 children and children-in-law and our one-year-old grandson.

Happy birthday to Cam Newland January 9.
Norm and I enjoyed a New Year's Eve with friends at the home of Heather and Ernest Wallner in Potageville. We found that one need only mention staying home on New Year's Eve and invitations become numerous.
It is not the place, nor the condition, but the mind alone that can make anyone happy or miserable.
The boat show will be at the CNE Coliseum from January 10 until 19.
Now the holiday celebrations are all over.

Bull-Issimo

It's been nothing but top honors for Oak Ridges Bellisle, bred and owned by Oak Ridges Farm at Oak Ridges. His latest accolade came at the Royal Agricultural Winter Fair, where he was judged Junior Champion Bull. Prior to that, Bellisle was named the first prize yearling and Junior and Reserve Grand Champion bull at the Canadian National Exhibition, Toronto; first prize yearling and Champion bull at the Peterboro Championship Holstein Show; and first prize yearling bull at the Ontario Spring Holstein Show in Stratford. He has also been nominated for All-Canadian consideration.
