Lots to do in village and area

At the Library
Your New Year's Resolutions have a good chance of succeeding this year if you take advantage of the King Township Public Library's help. How to be a good, effective parent and how to have a beautiful, healthy body are the subjects of two classes starting in January.

The Parent Effectiveness Training Course, over-subscribed last year, is again being held in the King City Library. Mrs. Ruth Jackson of Mount Forrest is the teacher. The sponsor is the Richmond Hill Family Service Centre. There will be eight sessions starting, January 21 from 7:30 pm to 10 pm. The cost is $20 single or $35 for a couple. The textbook may be purchased at a discount.

Exercise to Music, move and dance your way to fitness, is the second class at the King City Library. The teacher is Lisa Miller, Danish expert in dance and exercise. There will be 10 sessions, Wednesday mornings at 10:30. The fee is $4.

7 new Cubs at Ridges
By Janet Russell
Edison Bunn, postmaster at Oak Ridges since 1968, retired December 28 at the age of 60. He started in the postal service in 1939 as a letter carrier in Toronto.

After approximately a year and a half he went into the Royal Canadian Navy as a bandsman and rose to the position of bandmaster by the time of his discharge five years later.

Bunn has had a continuing interest in music since his youth and won five gold medals for cornet playing while in his teens.

After his discharge from the Navy he returned to the postal service in Toronto, working first as a letter carrier and then as a railway rail clerk between Toronto and Montreal.

He left that branch of the postal service to become supervisor in the forward dispatch department of the Toronto Post Office. From there he went to Aurora where he worked for six years before coming to Oak Ridges.

Being a modest person, he did not broadcast the fact that he was leaving Oak Ridges Post Office, but regular users of the post office here may have noticed hanging in, the showcase a framed letter which read:

"On the occasion of your retirement from the public service I wish to thank you on behalf of the government and the people of Canada for your contribution of over 35 years of faithful service."
(signed) P.E. Trudeau Prime Minister"

Lions distribute 18 Yule hampers
By Janet Russell
Oak Ridges correspondent
Oak Ridges Lions Club distributed 18 Christmas hampers December 21 as part of its community service program. These hampers were made up of donations of food, toys, handcrafted items and many articles of seasonal fare bought by the Lions.

Various United Churches in the region contributed articles to St. Paul's which were passed along to the Lions.

The number of hampers dropped slightly this year, but they still remain much appreciated gifts by those who receive them. Cost to the Lions Club rose drastically this year, mainly because of escalating food prices, but also due to a drop in the number and amount of contributions and donations.

The Lions and St. Paul's wish to thank all those area residents who donated gifts. They were very gratefully received.

Youth program starts January 28
By JANET RUSSELL
The community youth program will hold its first meeting at Lake Wilcox Public School January 28 from 7 to 9:30 pm. All young people of the area, aged 13-17, are invited.

Supervision will be under the jurisdiction of an advisory council comprised of several adolescents, Richmond Hill Recreation Director Lynton Friedberg, Robert Anderson and other area adults.

Adult volunteers are needed. If you would like to help please contact Robert Anderson at Lake Wilcox School or Lynton Friedberg at the town offices, 884-8101.

The program on the 28th, under the guidance of qualified instructors, will be ceramics and basketball.

The advisory council has applied through the board of education to the ministry of education for a community school grant to cover the cost of the program. If this grant is approved, it could mean a much greater use of the school in the community, which is the intent of these grants. Three applications have been sent through the York County Board of Education to the ministry of education for grants of this kind.

Relaxed atmosphere at Old Country Shoppe
By Donna Matthews
King correspondent
Hiding on a dead end street known as Station Road lies another wonderful place to browse and shop known as the "Old Country Shoppe". Owned and operated by Walter Flemming (a demolition contractor) for the past three months, the antique store is located just west of the CNR tracks, across from the King GO Commuter Station.

While not the fanciest decor or the largest of stock, the Shoppe does have a lot of relics of the past at reasonable prices. Any bar in King would be enhanced with the old (working) cash register selling for $50., or the coffee mill priced at $75. And something that every rustic kitchen should have is the "sausage stuffer, lard-frost press" available for $75.

As Walter sat relaxed in a rocking chair near an old stove hot with coals, smoking a pipe, we wandered around looking at all the treasures of yesteryear.

We found a barn framing drill, chess sets, a Buck's "Happy Thought" cook stove, wagon wheels, lamps, curious bits of china, large cast iron bells that once heralded the beginning of a church service or schoolroom class, railway lanterns, milk cans, hydro pole glass insulators, old glass milk bottles (the kind with the cardboard lids that used to rise up when the cream froze, remember?) wooden carpenter planes, guitars, chairs and doors.

For something to wear to the next All Saint's MASK dance, the Shoppe has several fancy Mexican sombreros with fancy bead decorations. For that romantic evening or to kill the odor of cooking cabbage, they have scented candles and oriental incense.

And best of all, there's no pressure to buy anything in spite of the fact that (due to location mostly) sales have been lagging. As you look, poke and puzzle over the goods, Walter puffs on his pipe, rocking to and fro, showing no signs of his urgency to improve the "pace" of his sales.

Only a few weeks ago, we met Norbert and Bjorg Rocks at the Country Shoppe as we purchased our Christmas tree. In fact a few trees are still left on the lot, and I'm sure that Walter would accept any offer for them. After all, there's only 350 days until Christmas; in fact only about 290 more shopping days!

daughter of Dave and Judy of Kingscross Estates. Michelle will be four years old January 20.

Get well wishes to King Township Councillor Jack Van Luik who suffered a stroke recently and is a patient at York County Hospital in Newmarket.

Kingcraft general meeting is scheduled for January 22 at 1:30 pm.

Happy birthday January 21 to Ross Irwin.

Each of us must find privacy, if we are to remain a consistent, sane individual with a normal, happy, inner life.

Charles and Edith Clubine of RR 3, Elmvale, will be holding open house on the occasion of their diamond wedding anniversary at Woodland Terrace Restaurant, Woodland Beach, January 19 from 1 to 4 pm. Mr. and Mrs. Clubine are well known in the Laskay and King City area as Mr. Clubine was employed for many years by Henry Borden of Tannery Hill Farms.

The tea room at Crawford Wells General Store is apparently open for business and I hope to visit it soon.

Grades 4, 5 and 6 from Patton and Kinghorn schools have embarked on a six-week winter recreation program. While cross-country skiing at Seneca January 8 Elliot Boulder managed to go through the ice of Lake Johnda, but was quickly rescued. Good thing he was wearing his own skis!

Good Morning Group meetings resumed this morning at All Saint's Anglican Church at 9:30 am. This active group provides companionship for your pre-school children, and a chance to meet new friends and listen to interesting speakers. Membership is $2. Drop in some morning!

Happy birthday to Michelle LeGallais.
