Mobile homes policy review

The report prepared by Richmond Hill's planning staff on mobile homes and mobile home policy will be reviewed by town council. The review will be with respect to the input received and the comments made at the last public meeting on this subject, members of council's planning committee agreed January 28.

The report will be received only after it has been compared to a housing project policy adopted by council.

The unanimous decision came on a motion by Regional Councillor Lois Hancey.

The report was considered by council at its October 7 meeting. It was adopted on a 5-3 vote, Ward 5 Councillor William Corcoran declaring a conflict of interest and leaving the council chamber.

Councillor Corcoran is the principal in an application for a mobile home park in the Gormley area.
