

Liberal Circulation Director Peter Line learns how mail subscription service might be improved from postal official George Ellis.

Bypassing Toronto suggested to speed mail subscriptions

Mail subscribers to The Liberal may be able to look forward to faster delivery in the near future. Recently a direct routing system was worked out between postal officials and Peter Line, circulation director of Metrospan North newspapers. Until postal code sorting is in full operation, complemented by a revised direct trucking system, George Ellis of the post office's marketing publications section suggested how 50 bundles of papers can be addressed to bypass the central Toronto sortation terminal. This should cut delivery by at least one day, Ellis said. In addition, each week before 5 p.m. Wednesday, Liberal trucks will drop papers at local post offices in Thornhill, Richmond Hill, Willowdale, Gormley, Oak Ridges, King City, Maple, Kleinburg, Woodbridge and Concord. Barring periodic labor disputes and postal upsets, The Liberal's goal is to have papers at homes by Thursdays. Wish us luck.

Lions hear herdsman Houck

It was Agriculture Night at the Victoria Square District Lions Club on Tuesday evening of last week.

David Houck, herdsman of Romandale Farms, gave a very informative and interesting talk on the Holstein cattle.

Fraser Gee, David Tinker, Ken Harmon and Don Boynton Saturday attended the Lions Curling Bonspiel at Alliston.

The February meeting of Metro Toronto Conservation appointments

Metro Toronto Conservation Authority is composed of 49 members from Metro, the Regions of York, Durham and Peel and the Townships of Mono and Adjara.

This is the area through which the Humber, Don and Rouge Rivers and Duffin, Highland and Petticoat Creeks flow.

Representing York Region are Councillor Robert Adams of Thornhill, Mayor Margaret Britnell and J. A. Bryson of King City. Councillor Lois Hancey and Floyd Perkins of Richmond Hill, Grant Henderson of Woodbridge, James Jongeneel of Aurora, Mayor Gordon Ratcliff of Stouffville and Vaughan Mayor Garnet Williams of Nashville.

Perkins heads the Don Valley Advisory Board with Adams as vice-chairman. Bryson is chairman of the historic sites advisory board and Mrs. Hancey the vice-chairman. Jongeneel is vice-chairman of the conservation areas advisory board.

Henderson was named chairman of the authority by Lieutenant-governor-in-council to succeed Fred Wade of Toronto. Elected vice-chairman was Mrs. Florence Gell of Toronto.

Schizophrenia help
Is it really all in your mind? You are fatigued, and you were told you should get an interest in life. You are weepy, and you were told you have an identity problem. Has anyone told you that you may have a nutrition problem? It is possible that a nutrition problem can cause all these symptoms. The Canadian Schizophrenia Foundation is a charitable organization which has helped many people with problems like yours. For more information, write to the CSF, Box 1783, Regina, Sask. or phone 527-7969, area code 306.

Plumbing

Former York Regional Police Constable Glen Percival, 26, who resigned from the force in January as the result of alleged drug misdealings, appeared before two special meetings of the police commission recently.

Plumbing and Electrical DEAL SERVICES

The meetings were said to have been called to allow Percival to explain his involvement in the incident which led to his resignation. Percival said he expected a further meeting within two weeks. Accompanying him at the meeting were his lawyers, Jeffery Lyons and Paul Iacono of Toronto. Chief Bruce Crawford, Percival's main accuser, was absent, as was Commissioner Ray Twinney. Both are holidaying in Florida. The meetings, which were closed to the press and the public, was also off limits so far as any statements afterwards were concerned. Commissioner Stewart Rumble told The Liberal the meeting was completely 'in camera' and any comments at this time would be unfair to all concerned. Percival and his lawyers are hoping for an inquiry into the former's dismissal before the Ontario Police Commission, plus the possible laying of criminal charges against certain York police officers. Percival resigned after a police raid on his apartment in Bolton disclosed a quantity of marijuana he had confiscated in an earlier arrest of two juveniles. The constable admitted to erring in taking the evidence home, but denied any other act of wrongdoing.
