Plenty of soap and elbow grease

Some 15 young people from Richmond Hill Presbyterian Youth Fellowship had a busy day Saturday washing 50 cars in the church parking lot. For a dollar per car and free coffee, customers got a real bargain. Proceeds will help with youth activities at the church. Pictured in action above are (left to right) Jennifer Wood of Centre Street East and Lorna Culham of Pugsley Avenue.

Make sandwiches big on summer scene

Food becomes part of the action, not just part of the scenery on summer picnics, hikes and camping trips. Set the pace by serving big human type sandwiches everyone can make a meal on.

Men will go for the popular multi-layered sandwich. Thick slices of a variety of breads, toasted or plain, can be put together with thick layers of different fillings. Live dangerously "sandwichily speaking" with combinations like these: liver sausage, chili sauce and sliced hard-cooked eggs; sliced turkey, cranberry relish, crisp bacon and sliced tomatoes; thin slices of ham and cheese with slices of tongue topped with mustard and coleslaw. Jumbo sandwiches like these cut in wedges are pretty enough to rate high with the ladies, too.

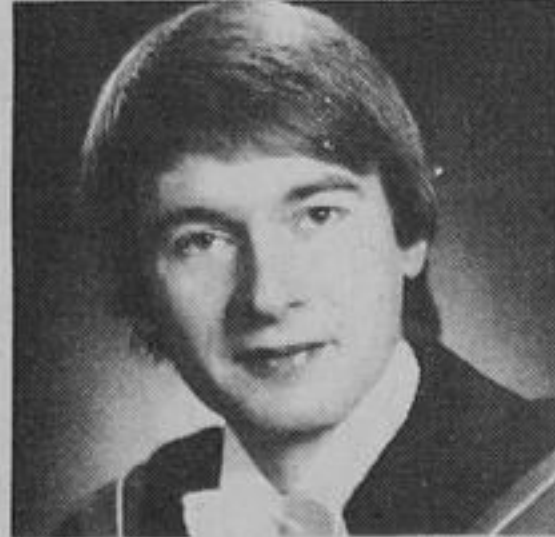

Makes 12 sandwiches.

Five-layer Sandwiches
12 slices rye bread, buttered
2 tablespoons mayonnaise
2 tablespoons horseradish
Leaf lettuce
6 slices process cheese
1 medium onion, thinly sliced
1 can (12-ounce) luncheon meat, thinly sliced
2 dill pickles, thinly sliced
6 gherkins

Spread half the rye bread slices with mayonnaise and remaining half with horseradish. Arrange layers of lettuce, cheese, onions, meat and dill pickles on half the bread slices. Top each with a second lettuce leaf and remaining bread slices. Decorate each sandwich with a radish and gherkin on a toothpick. Makes 6 hearty sandwiches.

Hearty Sandwich Loaf
1 French loaf (about 12 inches long)
1/4 cup mayonnaise
2 tablespoons prepared mustard
3 cups cole slaw
1/4 pound thinly sliced salami
6 slices, process Swiss cheese

1 medium cucumber, sliced
3 medium tomatoes, sliced
Cut French loaf into slices about 3/8 inch thick (about 24 slices). Combine mayonnaise with mustard and spread on bread. Fill each sandwich with cole slaw, salami slices, 1/2 slice cheese, sliced cucumber and tomatoes. Reassemble loaf. Garnish if desired with radishes and pickles. Makes 12 sandwiches.

IAN RANKIN

Medical grad

Ian Rankin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Rankin, May Avenue, Richmond Hill, graduated Monday from the University of Toronto with the degree of doctor of medicine.

A graduate of Thornhill Secondary school, Dr. Rankin earned his bachelor of science degree from U of T in 1970. He is now interning at the East General Hospital in Toronto.

YCH program on diabetes

What you don't know can hurt you, especially if you are a diabetic.

In order to help diabetics, their families and friends to better understand the nature and treatment of this handicap — the malfunctioning of one of the ductless glands of the body — York Central Hospital is presenting a special program, Diabetes and Daily Living, on June 4 at 8 pm in the hospital lecture hall.

For further information call Ms. Karin Rose, in-service education coordinator, at 883-2018 or 883-2019.

York Regional Symphony elects new executive

With one season over, the new executive of York Regional Symphony Orchestra is preparing for another year.

The executive, elected at a recent meeting, is headed by president Dr. Jim Knowles. Vice-president is Lou Fishman, past president Sheila Roberts, treasurer Ron Mills, secretary Gail Harrison, membership secretary Frank Harvey, student representative Rita Schoenhof, and directors Betty Pigden, Les Stanley and Alex Campbell.

Conductor is Clifford Poole and concertmaster George Moseley.

At conference Six representatives from the orchestra attended the Ontario Federation of Symphony Orchestras conference at the Walper Hotel, Kitchener, May 9 to 11.

The theme was "The role of the volunteer in an age of increasing professionalism".

Group discussions covered many topics — management, programming and fund raising for symphony orchestras and others. Those attending had an opportunity to chat freely and informally with members and conductors of orchestras across Canada, including Victor Feldbrell, resident conductor of the Toronto Symphony.

Highlight of the weekend was the Province of Ontario dinner with Robert Welch, minister of recreation and culture, as speaker.

A concert followed, played by the Kitchener-Waterloo Symphony Orchestra at the University of Waterloo.

At the closing luncheon Arnold Edinborough, president of the Association for Business and the Arts, spoke eloquently about the role of the association which was formed to promote business as relating to the arts and to compliment the arts through business.

The YRSO executive will be meeting during the coming months to plan their program for next season.

Anyone interested in working with the orchestra or having promotional and fund-raising suggestions is asked to contact Mrs. Betty Pigden, 833-5541, or Gail Harrison, 727-3490.

Tulips predominant in flower show

In spite of the dry, hot weather, there was a good showing of tulips and other seasonal flowers at the meeting of Richmond Hill Horticultural Society on May 20 at Richmond Hill Presbyterian Church.

Tulips predominated in the show, but various house plants also vied for attention.

Montessori arts night

Parents and friends of the children at Toronto Montessori School were guests at an evening of the arts May 21 at the school, Bayview Avenue and Highway 7, Thornhill.

The program presented by the children was a skillful blend of instrumental music, dance, gymnastics and choral groups.

The audience was captivated by each group in turn; the Suzuki violinists and cellists, the circus and dancers.

All the performers were so proficient and enthusiastic that the audience was enchanted.

A memorable part of the evening was the exhibition of the children's art hung in the school library and halls. The work shown was highly creative and very imaginatively displayed.

Congratulations should go to everyone who helped make the evening a splendid success.

Patty Ranieri

A Richmond Hill girl, Patty Ranieri, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Ranieri, Osiris Drive, was winner of a dance scholarship for the best demi-character ballet solo at the recent Peel Festival.

Choreography was done by Candee Turner of Candee Turner Studio of Dance Arts in the Hill where Patty has been a student for several years.

Other students from the studio did very well in the festival, winning seven gold, 12 silver and eight bronze medals.

A grade 11 student at Loretto Abbey in North York, Patty hopes to make a career of dancing — as a teacher or a performer.

Fun evening for Hill naturalists

Richmond Hill Naturalists are winding up the season Friday with a pot luck supper at Richmond Hill Presbyterian Church. The supper at 6 p.m. will be followed by a short business meeting, then a movie and showing of photographs of some of the naturalists' past activities. Non-members who are interested in the activities of the club are invited to join in this fun evening.

Marianne Elizabeth McGinn, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. John Robert McGinn of Thunder Bay, was baptized in Richmond Hill Presbyterian Church on May 18. Marianne's mother, Louise, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Nesbitt Taylor Mills Road North.

After their weekend visit to the Hill, the McGinns spent several days in Toronto where Dr. McGinn had been attending a dental convention. They were married in the same church in which their daughter was baptized.

Top winner at the recent Kinsmen Monster Bingo at Richmond Hill Arena was Mrs. Livy of Aurora whose ticket No. 2502 won her a Nova automobile.

Special prizes went to Mrs. M. Mackie of Sandy Cove, Mrs. Betty Chalmers of Stouffville, Mrs. Nancy Cull of Richmond Hill, Mrs. Patricia McGhee of Aurora, K. Frost of Pickering and Mrs. May Hunt of Unionville.

About 50 members and children from Richmond Hill One Parent Families turned out for fireworks, food and a bonfire at the home of Anne Fleming in King on May 19. The club's next family event was a roller skating party May 23. Any single parents in Southern York who are interested in the One Parent Families Association may contact Margaret Truss, 884-3665, or Judy Jones, 889-1965. Regular meetings are held the second Wednesday of each month at 8 p.m. in St. Mary's Anglican Church, Richmond Hill.

Richmond Hill Historical Society is planning a work day at the Rowland Burr house, 528 Carville Road, on Saturday. The Society's aim is to restore the house, which dates back to 1816, to put it to use as a craft centre.

Beginning at 9:30 a.m. members and anyone else who is interested in the project will be working on the room that will be used as a kitchen, removing old wallpaper, scrubbing the ceiling, cleaning up generally.

Workers should take along lunch (tea and coffee will be provided) a chair to sit on, and working tools — pails, scrub brushes, scrapers, etc. Work will continue until 4:30 or 5 p.m. with people giving whatever time they can spare in the course of the day.

For further information about the society or about the project call Mrs. Janet Fayle, 884-3348.

Richmond Hill Figure Skating Club's spring school had its national test day May 13 and a dozen young people successfully passed one or more tests:

Elementary: Janet Elliott; speed: Don Godfrey, Jason Steele; novice I: Don Godfrey; jump: Maria Guarnacci, Don Godfrey; novice II: Roni-Marie Price; dance I: Cathy Thompson; figure: Denise Noonan; freestyle: Heather Peck, Karen Atkinson, Denise Noonan, Kim Steele, Kathy Rushton, Shelly Kay.

The Women's Circle of St. John's Baptist is holding a big garage sale on the church parking lot, 75 Oxford Street, Richmond Hill, beginning at 10 a.m. Saturday.

Old and new residents of the Hill are interested in what is going on in the community — service clubs, church groups, social happenings. Keep them informed through "It's Happening In The Hill".

Items for inclusion in the current issue of "The Liberal" should reach Social Editor Margaret Lade, 10101 Yonge Street, Box 390 Richmond Hill, by 10 am on MONDAY.

A public discussion on housing is scheduled for 7:45 p.m. May 29. Sponsored by the Citizens' Advisory Group, it will take place in the Blue Flame Room at Consumers' Gas, 500 Elgin Mills Road East, Richmond Hill.

One hundred and ninety-eight units of blood were collected at last Thursday's Red Cross Blood Clinic held in the Lions Hall on Centre Street East. A total of 233 donors offered their blood on this occasion, normally the largest clinic of the year.

However, those in charge considered the turnout quite good considering the hot weather and the Stanley Cup finals game being played that evening.

Lieut. Chris Amos
Lieutenant Chris Amos, 23, son of Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Amos, South Taylor Mills Drive in Richmond Hill, has more than one reason to celebrate.

On May 3 he married Jennifer Rudd of Toronto and on May 16 he graduated from the Royal Military College of Canada in Kingston with a bachelor of engineering degree.

His degree in air space engineering and his commission as a lieutenant in the Canadian Armed Forces, were conferred by Defence Minister James Richardson, chancellor and president of the college.

Lieut. Amos is enjoying two weeks leave before going on to St. Johns, Quebec for a 10-week training session with the CAF Air Force branch, then another 10 weeks at Base Borden.

A graduate of Bayview Secondary School in Richmond Hill, Chris was active in athletics at RMC, playing hockey for the college for four years.

Senior citizens

With warm sunny weather May 17, 94 senior citizens from Richmond Hill enjoyed a bus trip to Niagara-on-the-Lake to see Pygmalion at the Shaw Festival Theatre.

Many took lunches and had a picnic before the performance. Others sampled restaurant fare.

The local club's tours organizer, Don Hick, has arranged a trip to Seneca College, Finch and Woodbine Avenues, on June 9. This free outing, courtesy of Travelways, will feature a program of travel films, slides and refreshments. The bus leaves the clubroom, 10149 Yonge Street at 6 p.m.

Reservations must be made one week in advance for all trips and tickets picked up by the Wednesday preceding the trip. Mr. Hick is at the club room every Wednesday from 1 to 2 p.m. He can be reached at 884-1736.

As part of Richmond Hill Historical Society's Old Time Festival at Hillcrest Mall June 12, 13 and 14, the senior citizens will be displaying handicrafts from 11 am to 9 pm June 12 and will demonstrate pioneer skills such as quilting, broom making, caning, lace making, etc.

Members of Club 35 may now pick up schedules of activities planned for the summer at the club rooms.
