It was back to see-saw again with Mississauga tying it and then moving into a 5-4 lead. But the day was saved with three minutes remaining when left winger Debbie Trotman picked up a perfect cross pass from Morelli and headed the ball into the left corner of the net.

3 goals for Manelli

Leading the scoring way was Suzan Morelli with three and Debbie Trotman with two. Coming up with excellent performances were Hedy Ahnert, Caroline Snider (goal) and Susan Stewart.

Their most exciting win came July 15 against Calgary with the Richmond Hill team again forging into 2-0 lead in the first 10 minutes.

The first one came on a 40 yard shot by Leigh-Ann Smith which fooled the Calgary goalie followed by a goal by Debbie Trotman.

Then came the sags as Calgary stormed to the offensive but could only break for one goal in a fine display of defence by the lassies. Both teams exchanged crests prior to the game.

Tennis interest grows

By Eric Handbury The activity on the courts at Rich-for courts would now be slackening off as you can for a while in case he's but every night finds them crowded and organized events have more entries than ever before. For people wanting less competitive tennis the social night on Wednesday is still popular...beginners or intermediate, all get three or four matches striving hard, but always with distinction for the prize of a can of balls. In all ages and categories Richmond

Hill is doing well...in the under 12 category Paul Beck rose through the clamoring ranks to the quarter finals at the Sir Winston Churchill tournament and to the semi-finals in the Ontario Closed. Janet Sheppard, under 14, also made the quarter finals (bear in mind, that's the last eight competitors) in the Sir Winston Churchill. Majors win

The Majors won 4-2 at Brampton mostly due to the Augusts, Peter Wenzel, Phil Blanchard, Brian Stainer and the wraith-like Arnie Balogh.

Pat Lohman and Val Bruhn blew their debut but not without a struggle. The York-Simcoe team beat Aurora 3-2 and are now top of the standings.
