Peach Salad

Peaches are delightful for a summer dessert, a Sunday picnic, or atop any breakfast cereal, but for a change try them in a salad.

Here is a smooth, delicately flavored recipe to give you that opportunity. Preserved ginger is added, but only enough to give a subtle flavor. If you're fond of peaches and plums, this recipe is guaranteed to become one of your favorites.

Peachy Fruit Salad
2 fresh peaches, pared and sliced
2 fresh plums, pared and quartered
1 large orange, pared and sectioned
4 maraschino cherries, halved
2 tbsp. slivered preserved ginger
1 carton (8 oz.) peach or orange-flavored yogurt
Sliced almonds for garnish
Combine fruits. Fold in Yogurt. Garnish with almonds. Chill.
Makes 2 cups.

The Liberal FORUM YORK-CENTRE All Candidates Meeting

Tony Roman P.C.

Tony Snedker N.D.P.

Alf Stong LIBERAL

WEDNESDAY SEPTEMBER 3

THORNLEA SECONDARY SCHOOL BAYVIEW AVENUE, THORNHILL

8 P.M.

BRIEF ADDRESSES

Press — The Liberal — Markham Economist and Sun

Panel — CFGM — Classicom Cable TV

QUESTIONS FROM THE AUDIENCE

York Centre's three candidates for the coming provincial election will match wits during a bear pit political forum Wednesday, September 3, in Thornlea Secondary School.

Sponsored by The Liberal newspaper of Richmond Hill, Markham and Vaughan, the forum will consist of three parts.

First, the candidates will have their say, outlining their platforms briefly.

A panel of local media representatives who will be following the campaign closely will then spring their toughest questions

Finally, the major portion of the evening belongs to the audience. The people who will decide their fate can ask the candidates where they stand on the issues that affect Ontario citizens most.

The forum moderator will be Gary Kay, a former Markham councillor.

The evening promises to be lively and informative — a quick and easy way to help you with that important decision September 18.

The forum gets under way formally at 8 p.m., but the doors will open at 7:30. Messrs. Roman, Snedker and Stong have been invited to shake hands and introduce themselves to those arriving.
