Caller visits

Maple and district residents will see one of the best-known callers of them all at the Canadian Arthritis Society's fund-raising Bluebird Hoedown April 23.

The event begins at 9 p.m. in the Community Hall.

Harold Harton and his orchestra will be featured during the evening, which includes square and round dancing, prizes and a smorgasbord... all for $15 a couple.

Mr. Harton is probably best remembered as the caller at Mart Kenney's Ranch during the 'Fifties and 'Sixties.

He has been teaching callers and leaders for more than 30 years.

During summer months he performs at Toronto parks, harborfront and the CNE.

An added attraction at the Bluebird Hoedown will be a raffle on a weekend for two at the Hyatt Regency Hotel.

To obtain tickets for the dance and the raffle, call 832-1305.

But hurry; they're going fast.

Go to Mexico

MAPLE — Brian Hasselfelt of Gosling Road and his seven companions from George Bailey School have just returned from an exciting eight-day trip to Mexico.

Some highlights were a visit to the pyramids, a performance of the folklore ballet which Brian described as "tremendous," and other side trips to villages and to the silver mines at Taxco.

During a visit to a local Mexico City school, the boys were asked by the Mexican students if they live in igloos.

Obviously, the entire experience was one these 13-year-olds will never forget.

Also travelling south were Connie Ambrosch of Weller Crescent, and her sister Angie. They flew down to Key West Florida on Connie's 16th birthday to join their parents.

Plenty of sunshine, snorkling and fishing were enjoyed during their two-week stay.

Fritz Ambrosch landed a two-foot blue shark and Connie reeled in an 18-inch yellow tailed snapper.

A moment of near panic occurred when a lady dangling her feet over the side of the boat almost lost them in the jaws of a seven-foot grey shark.

In Madison Square each evening at sundown, more than 100 young people celebrated sundown with folk music, while tourists applauded.

Another southern jaunt was taken by Susan Soderberg of Goodman Crescent and her family. They journeyed to Caymen Island.

Some of the activities they enjoyed were snorkling, a trip in a glass-bottom boat watching the colorful marine life below, and a tour in their rented car around the island. An interesting point on the tour was a visit to a turtle farm.

According to young Scott, the champagne breakfast on the way down (the kid's first plane ride) was the best part of the trip.

Debby and Janice Newman of Goodman Crescent are taking a school-sponsored trip to Europe.

Included in their two-week holiday are visits to Paris and Munich.

Judging from their postcards they are having a "Super" time. We'll look forward to hearing details when they return.

However, most of us were not fortunate enough to leave the Toronto area, and spent the week trying to think up activities to entertain the children, who after one day's vacation declared, "I'm bored Mummy; when do we go back to school?"

Mean feline

It seems as well as "dog-nappers", we also have an aggressive cat in Maple. The cat allegedly has already killed two other cats and sent an additional three to the veterinarian.

It might be a good idea to keep close tabs on your cats for awhile.

Euchre party

Vellore Senior Women's Institute is having a euchre and draw at Vellore Hall Saturday, at 8 p.m.

Admission of $1 includes refreshments and a draw on a patterned patchwork quilt done by the ladies.

All proceeds will go to York Central Hospital.

Concord club Sale aids Family Services plans party

CONCORD — April 13 will be a lucky day for Concord residents who enjoy card playing.

That evening, Concord Golden Era club holds a euchre party, and there will be prizes for winners.

The party, last in a series of winter-spring euchre nights, begins at 8 p.m. in Concord Community Centre.

Admission is $1 a person.

Golden Era club members meet May 4 for the annual general meeting. The agenda includes election of officers for 1976-77.

It's vegetable and mineral

A hint: there's a flat, hardwood board with an intricate system of coils and fine metal slats. Eileen Hamilton, in her search for unusual as well as practical items found and identified the device as a pleater, possibly an antique. It will be among the wide variety of articles available at a rummage sale Saturday in the hall of Emmanuel Anglican Church, MacKay Drive, Richvale. The sale, organized by Anglican Church Women members, runs from 11 a.m. until 3 p.m.

Concord club Sale aids Family Services

RICHMOND HILL — The best cooks in the region will, so organizers say, be bringing their baking to a Family Fun and Sales day April 24.

Bingo, a fish pond, music, clowns, dancing and a fashion show are also on the program.

The event is being held to raise funds for the work of Family Services in the Richmond Hill-Thornhill areas.

Family Fun and Sales day opens at 9 a.m., and there will be non-stop activity until 4 p.m.

Location is Our Lady Queen of the World Catholic Church at Bayview and Crosby Avenues in Richmond Hill.

Sale items will include clothing, jewelry, books, records, games, toys, household utensils and furniture, garden tools and plants.

Family Services provides family, marriage, crisis and credit counselling.

Communication

course offered

DOWNSVIEW — Business Communication is subject of a 14-week credit course which begins Monday at 7 p.m. at Don Mills library.

It is co-sponsored by North York Public Library and Ryerson Polytechnical Institute as the library inaugurates its Open College experiment.

The course of study includes written correspondence, verbal communication, report writing and terminology used in business today.

Lectures, discussions, critical analysis and workshop periods will be used to pursue the topic.

A fee of $50, payable to Ryerson Polytechnical Institute, is due upon registration the first evening at 6:30 p.m.

The course is a credit in Ryerson's evening certificate in Business Administration.

NOW THE FACTS

The Maple Theme Park Proposal

The results of a comprehensive study of the impact of the park on Maple, Vaughan and Metro will be available to the public at

The Maple Community Hall

(On the west side of Keele Street north of Major MacKenzie Drive just south of the Arena)

Thursday April 8th from
2:00 p.m. to 9:00 p.m.

Friday April 9th from
2:00 p.m. to 9:00 p.m.

Saturday April 10th from 10:00 a.m. to 4:00 p.m.

How will the park affect the quality of life in Maple? What about the environmental impact? What about noise, air quality, traffic? The answers to these and other questions will be provided in detail by the professionals who participated in the study.

We realize that Maple area citizens are legitimately concerned about what the park will mean to them. The impact study was commissioned to provide answers to local concerns.

Please come to our open house and discuss our proposal with us. We will welcome your comments, criticisms and constructive suggestions. With your help we can design a park of which we will both be proud.
