

Dennis Merlin
campaign chairman

Cancer drive is now under-way

By Doreen Livingstone
THORNHILL — "Our objective is to try to educate the general public regarding cancer and how to combat it."
 These were the words of Dennis Merlin, campaign chairman of the Canadian Cancer Society, Thornhill branch, Richmond Hill unit.
 April has been designated Cancer Month. Volunteer canvassers will be coming to your door to collect donations for this worthy organization.
 These canvassers will be wearing identification tags with their names clearly shown.
 Monetary goal for the 1976 campaign in the Thornhill area is $25,000. The money will be used to help pay for the many essential services the Canadian Cancer Society provides.

 Donations are tax-deductible.
 For example, transportation to any doctor or hospital is provided free of charge, when there is no other transportation available.
 Medication is also provided when needed.
 In some cases, a district health nurse is called in to administer the medicine.
 Weekly housekeeping services are also provided free of charge, when required.
 A patient who comes to Toronto from another city for out-patient treatment will be housed in a hostel provided for by the Society.

 These is also a separate department dealing solely with the task of educating patients and the public about cancer.
Local Officers
 Officers of the Thornhill Branch are: president, Peter Boon, 889-2458; secretary, Janet Jones, 889-3893; treasurer, Murray McKenzie, 881-1100, and campaign chairman, Dennis Merlin, 889-6634.
 Those interested in obtaining any assistance or information may contact the following people, who are all volunteer workers: Sheila Parkin, 889-

9345, head of the public education program; Ruth Reesor, 669-2471, transportation convener; May Ashkanace, 881-2108, head of the department which provides financial assistance in purchasing medication, and Marge Montgomery, 881-1408, head of commemoration funds.

 The Thornhill area of the society is bounded by Steeles to the south, Highway 7 to the north, Bathurst to the west and Don Mills Road to the east.

Corcoran is in the race

RICHMOND HILL — Town councillor William Corcoran, whose possible candidacy for the provincial York Centre Conservative nomination was announced in last week's Liberal, has made it official.
 He will seek the nomination at the party's convention April 22.

There will be at least one other challenger for the nomination, Markham Mayor Anthony Roman, who has represented the party unsuccessfully in the last two elections.
 York Centre includes Richmond Hill, Markham and the Thornhill section of Vaughan.

Loblaws prices are competitive.

More proof...

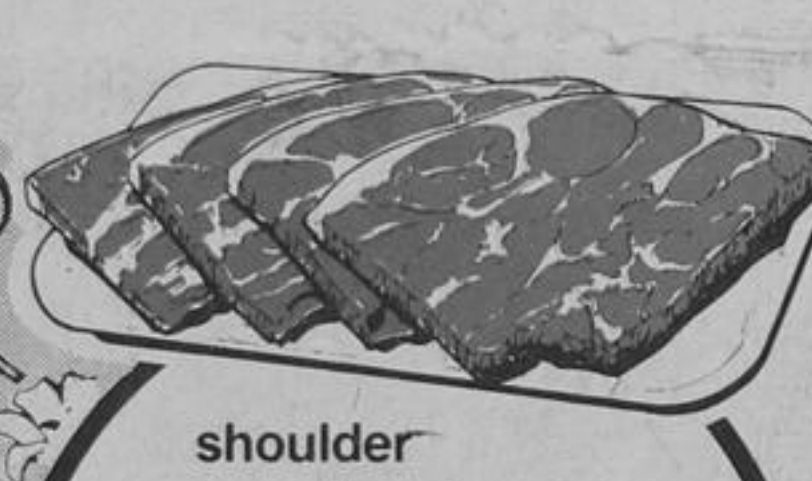

Mrs. Marilyn Wignall regularly shopped at Loblaws major competition. We asked her to do a comparison shopping at Loblaws, using her own regular shopping list. Mrs. Wignall: "Loblaws prices actually surprised me. I came here to prove you wrong, but there's my total and there is yours. You actually came out a couple of dollars below, but at least comparable and I didn't expect that."
