

Junior tennis tourney on way

By Ian Griffin
Club Professional
RICHMOND HILL — One of the upcoming events on the Richmond Hill Lawn Tennis Club's calendar is the first annual Nestle Canadian Junior Club championships.

Sponsored by Nestle, and jointly conducted in this province by the Canadian and Ontario Lawn Tennis Associations, the championships are the first of their kind.

An inter-club competition for junior (under 18) players at the national level.

Single knockout The event follows a single knockout format with each team consisting of three men and three 71 clubs A total of 71 clubs in Ontario alone are participating.

The Richmond Hill Lawn Tennis Club has been drawn in a grouping with Unionville, Thornhill and Markham and will play its first matches the weekend of May 22 and 23 at Markham.

The winning club from the above foursome will play the following weekend at a site to be determined.

Team members Following are the ones who have been selected to play on the Richmond Hill team:

Deirdre Lennon, Victoria Robinson, Jennifer Sheppard, John Handbury, and Richard Vermeulen.

An apparently early summer and the fact that the players have all been playing to some extent during the winter, guarantees that the team should be ready for competition a month from now.

Junior leagues The Richmond Hill club also will enter teams in the intercounty junior leagues. It will include about 31 clubs from the area around Toronto; in the junior leagues, men and ladies play on separate teams.

Each 'tie' involves four matches; under 18 singles and doubles, and under 15 singles and doubles. This means six players are required for one tie, but a team may include any number of players.

Matches are played at 10 a.m. Saturday mornings beginning early in May and continuing through the end of June.

Junior players (under 18) who are interested in representing the Richmond Hill club are asked to attend tryouts at Crosby Park May 5 and May 12 from 4 to 5 p.m.
