THORNHILL — The third annual Thornlea Hi-Art Exhibit and sale will be held at Thornlea Secondary School, 8075 Bayview Avenue, June 19, from 11 a.m. to 6 p.m.

As well as the work of students there will be workshops for senior citizens and handicapped children.

At this time it will also be possible to enrol younger members of the family in the Children's Art workshop supervised by senior Thornlea students.

Liaison Meeting

Tonight at 8 is the meeting of Bayview Fairways Parent Liaison group during which an executive is to be elected.

Forms have been sent home to parents requesting names of those who would be willing to be block parents in this district.

With the co-operation of the police and the schools in this area it appears that by September, but children of Bayview Fairways Public School will be included in the ever-widening network of Block Parent protection.

At the meeting the "Y" day care program will be explained by Dan McCaw, principal of the school, and Gwen Halliday of the "Y".

An increasing number of children are requiring noon hour supervision as it becomes necessary for both parents to work. The program provided by the "Y" at a nominal cost is one way of meeting this need.

These two programs are some of the interests of the parent liaison group and the steering committee hopes parents will come out to the school to indicate their concerns in other directions so the new executive may begin to work effectively.

Beginning July 5, York County Board of Education is providing driver education courses for students 16 years or older.

The in-class part of the course will be given two or three hours a day beginning at 8.30 a.m. from July 5 to Friday July 23.

The in-car instruction, consisting of six hours behind the wheel and 12 hours as an observer, will be given afternoons and evenings beginning the week of July 7.

The fee for the course is $70 and parental consent is required.

Perform play

The Prime of Miss Jean Brodie will be presented at Thornlea Secondary School, 8075 Bayview Ave. tonight and Thursday, Friday and Saturday. Tickets are available at the school and at the door.

This is a production of the senior Theatre Arts production course of Thornlea Secondary School. Sue Held is teacher of the course.

Keep jail farm green, say Ward 3 ratepayers

By Marion Hohener

RICHMOND HILL — Ward 3 Ratepayers Association wants to make sure the Langstaff jail farm remains green and open — and it's sending its views to the Parkway Belt hearing committee.

The ratepayers' steering committee met recently to discuss a letter to be sent to the hearing committee. The letter will call for the farm to be kept within the Parkway Belt.

"The land is already in public hands and it would be only proper that it remain that way," a ratepayers' spokesman said.

"The land itself is being actively farmed at present, so agriculturally the soil is good."

The committee noted that many ideas have been suggested for recreational and educational uses of the property and emphasized that "with Richmond Hill growing daily, the need for recreational or park use grows with it."

The letter to the Parkway Belt committee also mentions the famed Dunlop Observatory "which would find itself severely hampered if the area became highly developed."

Parkway Belt hearings will be held for the Richmond Hill — Thornhill area in early August.

Interested groups or individuals may send their views to the Parkway Belt secretary, 6th floor, 123 Edward St., Toronto.
