

Vaughan gets new industry

VAUGHAN — Crothers Limited will relocate early in 1977 to a four-building complex on a 40-acre site in the Town of Vaughan.

Construction of the facility, estimated to cost $14 million, began May 1. The new site is located on the south side of Highway 7 near Jane Street.

Included in the 225,000 sq. ft. project will be: a two-storey office building; parts warehouse; specialization and major repair area; an industrial building to house the company's power division including on-highway truck engine parts and service; a welding and fabrication building; a customer service and reception area.

All 420 employees from Crothers' divisions now operating at the company's Leaside head office site will be relocated to the new site before May 1977. This includes Crothers' construction equipment division, power division and truck engine parts and service facilities. The site in Leaside has been available for purchase since construction contracts were awarded for the new complex April 23.

"The relocation project will allow us to modernize all our facilities — offices, shops and parts warehouse — while at the same time providing easier access to our customers," said Joseph Crothers, company president.

The new facilities will provide improvements for Crothers customers, including:

- modernized equipment service areas located around a central service support complex as designed by Caterpillar Tractor

- a semi-automated parts warehouse with 28-foot height to provide increased capacity and speedier parts access and retrieval

- training functions concentrated into a single, integrated training area with improved audio-visual capacity

- more efficient configuration of test equipment

- specially-designed truck service bays with improved service equipment including chassis dynamometer

- improved employee work environment and expanded employee cafeteria areas.

Crothers Limited is Ontario distributor for Caterpillar products and services with 14 branch offices in 11 cities across the province.
