RICHMOND HILL — Five members of the Richmond Hill ward of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints have been appointed to leadership positions in the newly-organized Toronto East Stake (diocese).

Valeria Kuettel of Ruggles Avenue and Nadia Harvey of Briggs Avenue will head the cultural refinement and social relations programs of the women's Relief Society stake board.

Kay Welker Briggs of Thornhill has assumed his new role as counselor to J. Bruce Smith, former president of the Toronto Stake, now presiding over the Toronto East Stake.

Briggs has been a bishop, high councillor, and district president. He served his church as a missionary in South America.

Charles Lalonde of Jefferson Road and Stewart Irvine of North Taylor Mills Drive have been appointed to the stake high council, the administrative and counselling body for the area.

Lalonde was bishop of the Richmond Hill ward, and Irvine was his counsellor. They are now in charge of welfare services and deacons' activities.

Besides Richmond Hill, the new Toronto East Stake includes the wards and branches of Scarborough, Oshawa, Peterborough, Trenton, Belleville, and Cobourg.

Builders offer speakers

RICHMOND HILL — Frank Hearly, 42, of Richmond Hill is one of 12 speakers being made available to Toronto area organizations, universities and high schools by the Toronto Home Builders' Association.

Hearly, an engineer and immediate past president of the association, is president of Hearly Building Corporation, Brampton.

In a press release last week the association announced speakers' bureau information kits are being circulated.

They are available from the Community Affairs Department, Toronto Home Builders' Association, 5218 Yonge St., Willowdale, Ont., M2N 5P6.

"The bureau is a direct response to a significant number of requests for information concerning every conceivable aspect of new housing, from people in just about all age and income brackets — everything from what to look for when buying a new house, to arranging mortgage financing — exactly what to expect when buying a new home," said Association President Colin Bennell.

The association was founded in 1921 and is the largest residential construction association in Canada.
