

On trial

NEWMARKET — Douglas Murray, a former York regional police constable, was committed for trial for perjury following a two-day preliminary hearing in Toronto.

The judge ruled that no evidence from the hearing could be published.

The charge against Murray arose out of testimony he gave at a disciplinary hearing in Toronto last year, involving a fellow officer.

Auto attacked by axemen

RICHMOND HILL — Police are questioning two suspects following an all-out assault on an automobile here last week.

Tom Smith, Garden Avenue, told police his car was hit with an axe and 12 holes chopped in the hood, roof and side.

Following that, various obscenities were painted on the side.

Police have two suspects in tow.

False plate

A Keswick man was stopped for a traffic violation last week, but it didn't stop there.

Police said a check of his car turned up a sawed-off shotgun, with an altered serial number; 14 shells, a quantity of marijuana and other drugs, and a York regional police license plate.

Carman Stiver, 23, of Keswick, has been charged with possession of marijuana, possession of a restricted weapon, and possession of a restricted weapon in a motor vehicle.

Rumble Transport Ltd., Newkirk Road, Richmond Hill, reported the theft of nine cartons of Digital watches — totalling 440 watches — from one of their trucks making deliveries between Richmond Hill and Toronto.

The loss was estimated at $8,293.

Also in Richmond Hill, William Costoff, of Yonge Street, lost $1,080 in Olympic and other coins in a break-in at his premises.

Fire destroys trailer

RICHMOND HILL — A fire of unknown origin destroyed a house trailer parked on a lot in Westwood Lane in Richvale last week.

The trailer belonged to Margaret Harcourt, Dufferin Street, Toronto.

Richmond Hill Fire Department attended.

visited by thieves last week, with the result that $5,200 in clubs, putters and sweaters was taken.

In Markham, Eric Johnson, Concession 7, lost a three-and-a-half-year-old quarter horse.
