Region assumes garbage control

NEWMARKET — A resolution that will give York Region control over garbage facilities was approved by a vote of 8-6 at a meeting of region council.

The recommendation was in a report of the engineering committee, which not only called for the region to provide facilities, but would give it the right to veto similar moves by area municipalities without the region's consent.

Engineering commissioner Bob Hodgson said the region could wind up without any place to dump its solid waste, should it not have control.

At present, there are two applications from privately owned companies before the environmental hearing board for solid waste disposal in Maple. According to Hodgson, they plan to import Metro garbage.

Solicitor Edward Oakes said regional control was needed if the region was going to have any say at the hearings.
