MAPLE — Kay Turner, the personable singing barmaid at The Pig & Whistle, will be featured along with the popular TV show's Jimmy Turner and his band, Nov. 18 at La Gondola, 221 Bowes Rd., Concord. The "Pub Night" is being sponsored by the Maple branch of Canadian Cancer Society, and the society will get all the proceeds.

The evening at $20 a couple will consist of a hot and cold buffet dinner at 8 p.m., a draw on several super door prizes, a floor show and dancing.

For tickets and further information call 832-1104 or 832-1204.

Bazaar at Maple United

The annual bazaar and bake sale held by the ladies of Maple United Church will be Nov. 13, at 2 p.m. The bazaar features crafts, quilts, baked goods table and a tea room.

Cubs take costume prizes

Women were a big hit at the Maple Cubs Halloween party last week. Prizes for best costumes went to Daryl Cober as a professor, Jimmy Cameron as a lady, Mike Porter as a bride and Douglas O'Brien as a girl.

Baseball supporters needed

The annual meeting of the Maple Baseball Association was attended by the "usual nine people," says Bruce Bousher, association president.

Since six of these people are retiring, the association is in danger of folding up. "The people who are retiring have provided baseball for Maple children long after their own have graduated from playing," says Bousher.

Observatory park proposed

RICHMOND HILL — Development of a 13-acre town park on the David Dunlap Observatory grounds is under consideration.

But town staff is recommending that council not bother to start negotiations to lease the land until funds are available for development.

The University of Toronto, which owns the observatory, has expressed a willingness to lease the strip of land extending to Sixteenth Avenue for $1 a year.

It would be called David Dunlap Observatory Park, and its use would be restricted to passive recreation activities during daylight hours.

In what it terms "a very rough tentative estimate," town staff has said at least $75,000 would be required for grading, seeding, car parking, park furniture, signs and landscaping.

A staff report suggested, as likely uses for the proposed park: picnicking, strolling, open-air concerts, unorganized play and jogging trails.

The site is adjacent to the 10.5-acre Sixteenth Avenue public school grounds which has softball and soccer fields. According to the staff report, "any design considerations for the leased site should take the school site into account to provide a school-park combination of some 24 acres."

"The curtailment of debentures by the province for parks and recreation purposes, and the limited development funds that would be available in 1977 coupled with commitments already made by council for park improvements, suggests that the proposal . . . may be premature."

The report is on the agenda for council's parks and recreation committee meeting Thursday.
