Maple Sugar clan

Folksinger Dorothy Hogan heads the Maple Sugar Troupe, which will be presenting a free concert of folk and country music at Richvale Community Centre, Castlerock at Avenue Rd., tonight at 8 o'clock. The group recently appeared at the Factory Theatre in Aurora and has performed across the country. Miss Hogan, its founder, is also director of Guelph Madrigal Singers.

Rape of the Belt

Amazons warm up for opening night

RICHMOND HILL — It's only nine more days until the opening of the Curtain Club's second production of the year, "The Rape of the Belt."

A comedy by Ben W. Levy, the play runs from Nov. 26 to Dec. 11.

Directing is Cicely Thomson, who took time out for a short sojourn in the hospital, but is now back directing her Amazon forces, as well as the lesser male members of the play.

For that's what the play's all about, those amazing Amazons of ancient Greece, who had the legend of their great prowess pretty well all to themselves before their domain was invaded by the warrior Heracles and his bearded hordes.

After bell

That's also what gives the play its title, for it's the royal belt that Heracles has in mind when he takes on the well-rounded ladies.

Besides nightly rehearsals at the club, work continues apace on the set, whose construction is under the hand and hammer of Gerry Crack, director of the club opener, "See How They Run."

Crack's crew also put together the award-winning set by Michael Matyas and Ron Scott for last year's entry in the Central Ontario Drama Festival, "The Lion in Winter."

Among those appearing in Rape of the Belt are Vickery Cook, Pat Kantaroff, John Illingworth, Lina Visconti, Brian Moore, June Abbott, Edith Jones, David Lewis, Dorothea Painter and Rae Smith.

Album out

TORONTO — United Artists has announced the U.S. rush release of Keath Barrie's latest album, "Reach out".

This is Barrie's third Canadian album, but his first American release.
