Club for epilepsy

WILLOWDALE — Willowdale Epilepsy, a social club and parents' group now in its 14th year of operation, will again be holding monthly social evenings for victims of the disease, their parents and friends.

Kay Stowe, founder of the group, said the socials, which will be held at St. Gabriel Centre, 672 Shepard, east of Bayview Avenue, will include dancing, games, dinner and other entertainment. Membership is open to those in their teens, right up to 70.

She said the evenings are mainly for those epileptics whose seizures can't be brought under control by drugs. The evenings give them a chance to participate in a way they would not always be able to.

There is still a great stigma attached to the affliction, she said. However, she wasn't blaming the public, which hadn't been properly educated in the subject.

"Until they learn the three categories of epilepsy, they won't understand," she said.

She said that these were: that which could be controlled by drugs; that which could be partially controlled by drugs; and that which couldn't be controlled. People with the latter, also suffered side effects.

Mrs. Stowe got the idea for the evenings, because of her son, an epileptic, who suffered an injury at birth and has a malformation leading to the brain.

A member of the third category, Mrs. Stowe's son, now 31 suffers seizures of 36 to 48 hours at a time, "and there's nothing we can do about it."

She said that her son was unable to work, but had become involved with citizen band radios lately and it had opened up a new world to him.

Mrs. Stowe said that the group is both interested in getting new members and volunteers, the latter being especially important, with the big Christmas dinner not far away.

Those interested in learning more about the group can call Mrs. Stowe at 221-9912.

Market basket drops 73¢

TORONTO — The cost of the Ontario Food Council Market Basket decreased 73 cents to $106.50 from the first week of October to the first week of November.

A 7 per cent drop in the pork section of the basket and lower citrus prices accounted for the major portion of the decrease. A small reduction in poultry prices, chiefly chicken, was also evident in the basket.

Price increases for apple juice occurred during the month as supplies are much lower than in 1975. Seasonal price rises for fresh vegetables were also evident.

The price of the Ontario Food Council Market

Basket is the average cost of 127 items priced at five major supermarkets operating in Metropolitan Toronto.

Reiss' get diplomas

THORNHILL — Arlene and Peter Reiss, daughter and son of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Reiss of 10 Orton Crescent, received their Associateship Diplomas (A.R.C.T., Teachers') for Piano during the commencement exercises of the Royal Conservatory of Music of the University of Toronto on Nov. 10.

Both are former music students of Jo-Anne Ras. Arlene is presently teaching piano and studying for the attainment of a performer's degree while Peter is pursuing the study of law at Osgoode Hall Law School, York University.

Don't answer 'yes'

RICHMOND HILL — Try this quiz prepared by food specialists at the Ontario Food Council, Ministry of Agriculture and Food. A "yes" answer to any one of the following questions could lead to cases of intestinal upset or food poisoning.

Do you keep a thawed turkey for more than a day before cooking even in the refrigerator?
Do you stuff a turkey more than three hours in advance of roasting?

Do you stuff a turkey then freeze it so that it will be "ready" for roasting?

Do you partially cook the turkey one day then finish the cooking the next day so that you won't have to get up so early?

Do you store the cooked leftover turkey (with the stuffing it) in the refrigerator?
