THORNHILL — This Friday morning (Feb. 18) at 10 a.m., parents of students at Henderson Avenue Public School are invited to attend the first of a series of discussions on topics connected with child-raising, all to be held in the school library. Dr. B. Lacombe, a psychologist at York Central Hospital, will be the first speaker, his subject being 'techniques of parenting'.

Henderson's winter carnival celebrations are now slated for Feb. 24 when the students will engage in a number of outdoor activities.

Mrs. Catherine Boyd, Kindergarten teacher at Henderson, is recuperating at home following major surgery at Toronto General Hospital.

Delicious surprises
You may want to make a special point of attending the Gallanough Library on Feb. 24 at 7:30 p.m. for an evening of 'delicious surprises'. Thornhill residents Thomas and Martha Henrickson, artists and authors of the new book, "The Organic Zucchini" demonstrate their artistic flair with zucchini in the kitchen, in photography and on the printed page. A display of their photography graces the walls of the library for most of this month.
