king city
KING CITY — A Eugenia Berlin show in the Gallery Room of the King Township Public Library, King City, from March 1 to 21 will give this Canadian artist's many admirers a chance to enjoy her water-colors, mixed-media pictures and black and white drawings.

Miss Berlin was born in Russia and trained on the Continent, in the United States and Canada. and in many Canadian galleries including the Royal Canadian Academy and a one-man show in the Eaton's College Street Gallery.

She is represented in the National Gallery of Canada. A Toronto street scene by her has been purchased for the new Toronto Central Library now being built. Eugenia Berlin is included in the Dictionary of Canadian Artists.

These are pictures to enjoy, showing the artist's strong sense of design and rich use of colour. There are two interiors and two sketches of rabbits that recall her well-known animal sculptures.

The exhibit will be on view during library hours, 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Saturday and 7 p.m. to 9 p.m. Monday through Thursday until March 21.

Lions speech champs

RICHMOND HILL — Jill Harris, 13, of 407 Beeker St. was named winner of the Richmond Hill Lions Club public speaking contest at a recent meeting of the club.

Jill, who will now go on to the District contest, won over Amanda Wheeler, 12, of 390 Mill St. She came second.

Third-place finisher was Laurie Lynden, 14, of 336 Markham Rd.

Honorable mentions went to Tracey Long of 40 Starlight Cres., Douglas McLean of 60 Bridgeport St., and Richard Harris of RR 1, Markham.

Guest speaker at the meeting was District Governor Earl Stewart of Aurora Lions Club.

Stewart, who is also chairman of the sight conservation committee, discussed the Canadian National Institute for the Blind and showed a movie on the training of leader dogs.

The dogs, mostly German shepherd, which are trained to be companions for the blind, cost $9,000, but are supplied free to people who qualify.

Blind people are trained to handle these dogs and must show a great deal of patience for the task.

Not every dog qualifies for the role, as they must be able to meet certain standards of stability.
