Local trio at Inn

They all came from rock backgrounds, but somewhere along the way they got a bit tired of rock, so now they offer their own "flavor of music," according to Dave Street, (right), of the trio, Derby, Saunders and Street. The trio, along with Bruce "Magoo" McGregor of Richmond Hill, can be seen playing their flavor-ite tunes downstairs at the Richmond Inn all this week. The boys play a progressive country style of music, but admit to borrowing from the traditional, too. Somehow or other, it all comes out in their own style. The boys put the band together when they were all residents of a Church St. residence in Richmond Hill two years ago, and have been hitting the circuit ever since. Street plays the banjo, guitar, bass and harmonica, while Chris Saunders (left) plays guitar and bass, and Wayne Derby plays bass and hand percussion instruments. He also handles most of the lead vocals for the group. Their biggest hit right now — "Skin and Bone."

On the march

RICHMOND HILL — Approximately $200 was raised by Bayview Secondary school band at its recent fund-raising concert at the school. The money is to be used to help pay for the band's trip to Carrollton, Kentucky, this summer, as part of an exchange trip there.

The Kentucky band will complete the exchange in June.
 Ray Barton, conductor of the Bayview group, said they have applied for a grant to the Education and special projects branch of the ministry of education, and hope to add to their funds there.

Sweet Adeline

TORONTO — A group of singers, who feel that four-part barbershop harmony has helped cement "more friendships than perhaps all the signed agreements in the world," will be staging a special guest night, Mar. 28 at Amesbury Park Centre at 8 p.m.

The latter is located at 1509 Lawrence Ave. W., 200 yards west of Keele St.

Known as the Queen City Harmonizers, the group will sponsor the song fest, which will be free to the public.

A community-spirited group of men, they have entertained at functions of several charitable and church groups and are available on request. Many hundreds of dollars and man hours are donated each year to deserving organizations, with public appearances being a very definite part of their programming, according to information officer, Paul Munger.

Anyone wishing more information about them can call Mr. Munger at 221-0656.

Both YSO, soloists shine at Woodbridge

By Penny Tibbles

WOODBRIDGE — A well-selected program of light, classical works was offered by the York Symphony Orchestra Friday night while the audience of 300 people sat at tables sampling wine and cheese.

The second annual concert sponsored by Woodbridge Rotary Club was highlighted by the playing of featured violinist Janice Bing-Wo. Janice is an extremely talented Grade 12 student who has studied violin for four years and now plays with the National Youth Orchestra. She displayed good technique and a confident approach to a movement from Lalo's "Symphonie Espagnole". In "Air", by conductor Clifford Poole, a well-constructed work based on traditional harmonies, Janice showed her ability to handle long sustained lines and a cadenza section.

An appropriate second number was Faure's "Pavane", a lyrical piece which featured some lovely flute solos. In this piece and in the more sustained second movement of the Vaughan Williams "Suite of English Folk Songs", there were precarious moments when the strong sections struggled with intonation.

Another highlight of the evening was a movement from Rachmaninoff's "Piano Concerto No. 2", featuring Deborah Piotrowski, a fourth year student at the faculty of music, University of Toronto. She displayed competent technique and musical understanding of both this piece and the slow movement of Mozart's "Piano Concerto in C". There are strong players in the woodwind and French horn sections, as was apparent in the Rachmaninoff "Piano Concerto" and in the final movement of Mozart's "Prague Symphony". Mr. Poole brought his musicians together to produce a sound musical interpretation of each work.

The evening came to a conclusion in a light-hearted manner with selections from the "Sound of Music" and Rossini's "Barber of Seville".

The YSO performs next at St. Andrew's College in Aurora on April 29 and 30. As Friday night's standing ovation would indicate, it is worth hearing.

Hill's Ray Sare at "Dylan" night

AURORA — Richmond Hill's Ray Sare, 24, will be among those featured in Friday (Mar. 25) at Folk Night at the Factory Theatre in a workshop of Bob Dylan's songs.

Also on hand will be well-known folk singers, Frank Buck, Cathy Stanton, John Lott, Terry Roberts and Sally McKay.

The Roberts-McKay duo and Sare will also perform separate sets on Friday night.

Classical guitarist Louis Lawlor of King City, will present a brief preview of his Sunday night concert in the Factory Theatre.

Friday's concert gets underway at 8:30 p.m.

BURR HOUSE PIONEER CRAFTS
 Once again Burr House is offering a program in 19th century crafts. Those of you who took the classes in the fall will attest to the fun and satisfaction gained by all.
 All classes are of 6 weeks duration, must have a registration of 8 to "go", and cost $20 for a 6 week session. There will be no refunds after the first teaching period.
SPINNING FOR BEGINNERS
 You will enjoy this craft. We teach you how to dye using natural dyes; to card; to spin with the drop spindle and the spinning wheel. Taught by Nancy McGuffin, 889-3637. Thursdays, 1:30 - 3:30 p.m. April 7 - May 12.
ADVANCED SPINNING
 Only for those who have some knowledge of spinning and wish to improve their skills. Special emphasis on designing your own yarns and nature dyeing. Taught by Nancy McGuffin, 889-3637. Thursdays, 7:30 - 9:30 p.m. April 7 - May 12.
WEAVING
 This is a delightful old skill which was highly prized by the pioneer housewife. You learn small loom weaving and then advance to the floor loom. Taught by Elizabeth Beadle, 773-4190. Tuesdays, 7:30 - 9:30 p.m. April 5 - May 10.
BASKETRY
 Both wickerwork and coiling. This is an unusual class and we think it is super. Taught by Nancy McGuffin. Wednesdays, 7:30 - 9:30 p.m. April 6 - May 11.
CHAIR CANING
 So often you find an old antique chair that needs a new seat. Learn to cane or rush one; pressed caning, too. Taught by Jean Haddock, 773-5658. Thursdays, 7:30 - 9:30 p.m. April 7 - May 12.
CROCHET AND BROOMSTICK LACE
 Come and get a basic course in these lovely old designs. You will enjoy every minute of this course and use what you learn time and time again. Taught by Dorothy Lienau, 895-5577. Tuesdays, 7:30 - 9:30 p.m. April 5 - May 10.
NEEDLEWORK
 Such a satisfying craft this is. You learn the different stitches with special attention to colour and design. Taught by Dorothy Lienau, 895-5577. Wednesday, 7:30 - 9:30 p.m. April 6 - May 11.
CHINA PAINTING
 This late 19th century art is being revived again and how you will enjoy designing your own porcelain and having it fired after each application. Taught by Dorothy Reid, 225-5642. Mondays, 1:30 - 3:30 p.m. April 4 - May 9.
 Courses in quilting, rug hooking or rug braiding will be available if enough people are interested. Call 884-3818 or 884-3348 for information.
 Register at the ROWLAND BURR CRAFT HOUSE, 528 Carrville Rd. (west of Roselawn Scholl) Saturday, March 26/7, 10 a.m. - 2 p.m. Or mail the attached registration form with your cheque made payable to HERITAGE/RICHMOND HILL CRAFTS, to Mrs. Nancy Jardine, 20 Centre St. W., Richmond Hill, L4C 3P4.
