

MR. and MRS. DICK HUESINKVELD
Albone - Huesinkveld

Louise Anne Albone of Thornhill was married to Dick George Huesinkveld of Norwood by Rev. James Tiller at St. Patrick's Anglican Church in Willowdale on July 23.

The bride was given away by her father, Trevor Albone of 137 Highland Park Blvd., Thornhill.

She wore a gown of polyester crepe de chine and chiffon, decorated with pearls which was made by her mother, Phyllis Albone, and carried a white fan decorated with white orchid and Stephanotis. Bridesmaids were Cathy Menard, Barbe Lowit and Judy Huesinkveld who wore green crepe dresses with short jackets of chiffon made by the bride.

The best man, Ted Metcalfe, and other gentlemen attendants, David Albone and Edward Huesinkveld wore tuxedos of dark green chintilly.

The reception and dinner dance was held at the Inn on the Park after which the couple took off to the Poconos Mountains in Pennsylvania for their honeymoon.

They will reside in Don Mills when they return.

Both the bride and the groom are honors graduates from Queen's University, she is history and he is engineering.

He is employed as a professional engineer at Ingersoll Rand.

Here's why Cable TV stays off the air when power returns

By DOREEN LIVINGSTONE

Have you wondered why, during a thunder storm, when your hydro goes off and then on again, the cable on your television set remains off?

Bob MacLeod, Technical Supervisor of Classic Communications says that "most of the problems are because of direct lightning hits on our equipment, but we are also dependent on hydro leads to our lines to feed our amplifiers."

"If there is a hydro failure, our equipment goes off automatically," he said.

Because the main antenna is located in Richmond Hill, when there is a hydro failure in Richmond Hill the cable goes off in Thornhill as well.

Thornhill has battery operated stand-by equipment.

Richmond Hill has fewer problems than Thornhill because when the hydro goes on the cable usually goes back on as well.

Mr. MacLeod explains that although the hydro system is capable of being switch back fed from a different area "ours is a one way type; you can't back feed it."

According to Mr. MacLeod, Classicom uses the best equipment available. They have surge protectors from lightning strikes.

He says in the past few weeks there have been several direct lightning strikes on their equipment.

Mr. MacLeod adds that when the hydro goes off the cable company can't look for problems until the hydro is back on.

The length of time needed to fix the problems depends on what the damage is, in how many areas it occurs and the time of day.

Sunday is a difficult time for cable breaks because all the men are off work; just on stand-by.

The problem pay be alleviated in the Thornhill area shortly. Classic Communications is in the process of putting together a microwave system that will shoot beams to Thornhill from their antenna sight in Richmond Hill.

He says "we will no longer have cable going through different hydro systems."

Hopefully there will be fewer cable breaks.

Guards may reach all-Ontario event

The Richmond Hill lifeguard team participated in a guard competition held in Burlington Friday and placed eighth out of ten teams.

The team, consisting of Kirk Marshall, Kerry Chapman, Errol Jones, Danyse Gravelle, Alison Dugan and Sherry Robinson, placed fifth in the emergency situations when they treated a spinal and a broken arm and placed ninth in the swimming events, said coach, Lesley Nicholls.

There is a good possibility that the team will be competing in the all-Ontario to be held at Carleton University on August 19, she said.
