TRIVIA
Sea Stories
In the 5th century, English sailors wore loose, fullsleeved "sea-gowns" that hung to the knees and were belted at the waist. The first official naval uniform dates from 1694, when King James I ordered shipmasters to wear long, scarlet livery with velvet trim. Seamen in the 18th century were called "tars" because they wore their long hair in tarred pigtails to keep it in place. The large square collars on sailors' uniforms were added to keep the tar from staining their open-necked jumpers.

Population Boom
The population of the world almost doubled between 1930 and 1970, when it was estimated to be between 3,600 and 3,700 million. If the present annual rate of increase of 1.9 per cent were sustained until the year 2010, there would then be 7,000 million people on earth. By 2050, the total could double again to 14,000 million.

Did you know that even baby teeth require constant supervision? It is these first 20 teeth, which usually have appeared by 3 years of age, that are essential to jaw development and positioning of the permanent teeth.
