Now moms take a break on Tuesdays

"A Tuesday Morning Break" is a new group for mothers and children set up at the Richmond Hill United Church on Yonge Street.

The program, which operates from 9:30 a.m. to 11:15 a.m., offers a variety of activities including guest speakers, craft demonstrations, interesting discussions and conversation.

Any mother, regardless of religious or non-religious background, is welcome to join.

The group is a "co-operative", with mothers taking turns babysitting about once every three weeks at the facilities provided.

A fee of 50 cents a week covers costs of coffee and cookies for moms, juice, cookies and crafts for the kids. Children gain the worthwhile experience of learning to play, share and create with other children, while mothers get a much needed break from their daily routine.

Anyone interested in joining or assisting as a speaker should call Beverly Rumble at 884-4294.

Now you're talking!

You're talking about the problems of alcohol in everyday life — and that's bringing them into the open. You've written in from coast to coast in response to 'Dialogue on drinking' to share your suggestions, experiences and reactions. It's clear that responsible citizens — drinkers, non-drinkers, social drinkers, ex-drinkers, teenagers, grandparents, social workers, students — are concerned about Canada's alcohol problems. All agree there is a crying need for moderation along with more information and education on alcohol-related problems and some feel there is a need for a change in attitude because "often more tolerance is shown to the drunk than the non-drinker," even though responsible drinkers and non-drinkers are in the majority.

You're asking
Why "wine and liquor lists do not include a list of non-alcoholic drinks"... why "alternative non-alcoholic punches aren't offered at parties"... why "people are always trying to 'spike' your drinks"... why "if a drunk gets behind the wheel of a car and his wife reports him, nothing is done — she is a trouble-maker — unless he kills someone."

message constantly screeched on TV is you have to drink"... "25 glossy liquor ads ran in the same issue of the magazine as your black and white ad showing the other side"... "the macho image requires that a real 'he-man' be a hard-drinking hero."

drinking sections"... "I am not advising absolute abstinence but am absolutely convinced of the immorality of permitting oneself to become so intoxicated that one inflicts harm on others."

You're concerned
"Society makes you feel like a freak if you don't drink"... "the

You're pointing out
"In many small towns in Canada the only social activity is to go down to the local hotel for a few drinks"... "I'd rather sit next to a smoker on an aircraft than next to a drunk but I don't see any non-

You're suggesting
"A series of radio or TV programs showing realistically what happens when a person drinks too much"... "bans or controls on advertising"... "very severe penalties for impaired drivers"... "courses for senior girls intent on marrying young on handling the situation of a drunk husband."

And...you're doing!

In Ontario, the Thunder Bay Committee for 'Dialogue on drinking' is well on its way... in Nova Scotia, local committees have joined with service clubs to discuss with hundreds of people, alcohol and its impact on the community... in Rothesay, New Brunswick, 40 Knights of Columbus have asked how they can help... in northern Manitoba, 'Dialogue' posters are appearing everywhere — even in the hotel washrooms... Medicine Hat, Alberta, has its Alcohol in the Community Program... and in Vancouver, teenagers petitioned against opening two liquor stores because some of their friends had been killed by drunk drivers.

"I see my own and my peers' attitudes changing. Instead of bragging how drunk we got on a particular night, we are more apt to take pride in being able to control our consumption at a reasonable level."

Now, we're talking!
We're talking about the problems alcohol can cause... but better, we're doing something about them together... and because of your efforts, a more responsible attitude to drinking is emerging.

And that, after all is what 'Dialogue on drinking' is all about — it's a program to help you talk about and do something about drinking problems. We'd like to hear more from you.
