

Police Briefs

If your mail's a little late this Christmas, don't blame it all on the post office. York Regional Police reported that a mail box had been removed from the front of Bayview Plaza in Richmond Hill and taken around to the back, where it was opened and the mail searched for money. No estimate of any loss of money was given.

SELF-SERVE

A Richmond Hill man has been arrested as a result of an incident at the Barrel Pizza Parlor, Oxford Plaza, last week.

Police said a man ordered a pizza from the store about 10:30 p.m. However, the truck delivering it, broke down en route, and the man was informed that the store would be unable to deliver his order.

According to police, the man then went down to the shop, got his pizza, but left without paying, using the excuse that he had been inconvenienced.

Facing a charge of theft under $200, is Robert Beatty, 28, of Colbourne Avenue.

CHRISTMAS PARTY?

Thieves who broke into the office of York County Roman Catholic School Board, Dunlop Street, Richmond Hill, may have had a party in mind.

Taken from the premises were four Christmas cakes and a coffee maker.

MASKED VISITOR

A Richmond Hill woman told police she was assaulted when she answered a knock at the door of her Plaisance Road home, about 10:50 p.m., December 15.

Susan Jane McGann, 30, said a man, wearing a mask, pushed snow in her face, and then grappled with her.

She said she managed to get outside, where the struggle continued, and then she pulled off his mask and scarf. The man then fled.

He was described as about five feet, six inches, and of "unknown age."

PARTY POOPERS

Lewis Lawrence, Aberfeldy Court, Thornhill, reported an estimated $3,500 damage to his home and vehicles, after a party there.

Facing charges in the matter are Richard Merzbacher, 17, Essex Avenue; John Marciak, 18, Oak Avenue; and Peter Vanhossen, 17, Church Street, all of Thornhill.

AREA THEFTS

Break-ins at two Uplands Avenue residences in Thornhill, proved costly.

Jean King, reported the loss of $3,200 in jewelry and coins, while Hugh Robinson was robbed of his $500 coin collection.

Also out coins, as well as other valuables, were Boen Khouw, Pemberton Road, Richmond Hill, who lost a quantity of Canadian and American coins, and Sam Cocuzzi, Woodbridge, who numbered 28 Olympic coins among his losses.

In Concord, break-ins and thefts were reported at three Bowes Road businesses.

Automotive Finishes and Supply Limited, lost $4,600 in equipment, cash and lottery tickets; Insmont of Canada Ltd., lost two spray guns, while Westfalia Ind. Inc., lost a $2,000 stud welder.

Goods are best

Appearing at Massey Hall recently caused the Good Brothers of Richmond Hill to miss the town's awards night and a citation for each of them. Judging by the looks, neither the group nor the mayor minded setting up another day to present the award. Left to right are Bruce and Larry Good, Mayor Dave Schiller, Michael McMaster of Thornhill, and Brian Good.

220 give blood

Clinic chairman says 'thanks'

In spite of the Christmas rush, 251 shoppers and regular blood donors dropped in to the blood donor clinic at Hillcrest Mall last Thursday.

Of those who attended, 220 were accepted as donors.

Drug Mart, and the Donut Window.

Final touches underway for party

Planning for the Richmond Hill Legion's gala New Year's Eve party has been going on for ages.

Now busily putting the final touches to the plans are chairmen Tom McKeague (upstairs) and Fred Williams (downstairs).

have arrived and are being sorted out.

The festivities get underway at 9 p.m. Ticket sales are reportedly going well at $10 per person. They are available to all at the Legion, Branch 375, Ohio Road.

Richmond Hill's clinic chairman, Betty Armstrong, said she was pleased at the turnout at this busy time of year.

She also wanted to thank several mall merchants and employees for their participation and donations to the clinic: advertising and promotions director Pamela Ball, Loblaws, the Mill Restaurant, Caribbean Cooler, Ziggys, K-Mart, Top

"Merry Christmas and a very happy and healthy New Year to all who helped by giving generously of their blood and to the volunteer workers who gave of their time," she said.

It's not work to walk. So why not walk to work?

WANTED: SOMEONE TO WHOM TO TELL A SECRET. You may be the one. If so listen to this:
"We saw a brand spanking new do-it-yourself framing workshop and gallery concept Hillcrest Mall, Steel Heights Plaza. It's a place called 'THE FRAME UP', where people actually build their own picture frames."
"Isn't that something? You can have a disgustingly good time. They say you'll come away smiling because you have saved a bundle."
"Can you imagine? In this day and age!"
"THE FRAME UP says that even if they do the framing for you, you can save money."
"You can find people that you know plus a variety of frames, attractive gifts and gallery items."
"We copied down the phone numbers 883-1210, 221-5787. They said to give them a call but that you really have to see it to believe it."
"Now that we've told you our secret...don't tell anyone."
