Guide support group meets today

Thirty former members and 17 currently active members of The Richmond Hill West Association of the Girl Guides adult support group will gather today at the Thornhill Country Club for a luncheon.
The ladies will be celebrating 35 years of assistance to Guiding groups in Richmond Hill.
Marion Currie, convener of the luncheon, said, "This time we will meet, not to raise money or plan events, but just for us."
Mrs. Currie has served Guiding for many years in many capacities, including that of Area Commissioner. At present, she is chairman of the Richmond Hill West Association.

The association was formed to assist Miss Edna Izzard, who brought Guiding to Richmond Hill.
Since that time, thousands of Richmond Hill girls have passed through the ranks of Guiding, from shy little Brownies, on to Guides and on to Rangers.
The past and present members of the association have served Guiding in many ways. Some have been active group leaders, while others have served as Commissioners.
Still others have worked as committee conveners and badge secretaries.

One association member, Ruth Redelmeier is currently a member of 'Our Cabana' which is the Western Hemisphere Guide Centre in Mexico.
The association has been involved in fund raising since its inception.
For many years, the Garden Tea at the home of Dr. Lillian Langstaff was the chief way of fund raising as well as the opportunity for the Guide groups to display their programs.

Fund raising did not stop on Dr. Lillian's doorstep. The Curtain Club became involved with special Theatre Nights to support Guiding, as well as film nights where all proceeds went to the Guides.
The ladies in the association have always been there to offer help where it is needed, and they will continue to do so.

Bus travel now free for blind

Blind people in Richmond Hill will be able to travel on local buses for free.
Richmond Hill Council passed a motion last week, after the Canadian National Institute for the Blind had asked the town's engineering committee to consider the proposal.

According to the CNIB, only three or four people would require the passes and they would be valid on town buses only.
Assistant clerk Bob Panizza said application forms and pass cards are now being printed and should be available within a few weeks.

Applications must be co-signed by a member of the Regional Municipality of York Advisory Board member for the CNIB, and will be available at the municipal offices.

Federation to honor 200 former instructors

Retired women teachers of York's elementary schools will be honored at the Diamond Jubilee dinner of the Federation of Women Teachers' Association of Ontario (FWTAO), May 30.

Any retired teacher who may have inadvertently been left off the invitation list is welcome to call the co-chairman of the Diamond Jubilee committee, Florence Hutchinson at 473-2940 or 473-3030 or Billy Hurley at 727-2531.
