Bob Forhan leading race for chairman

Newmarket Mayor Bob Forhan appears to have the inside track in the race for the York Region chairman's seat, according to a Liberal survey.

remain undecided about their choice, and their votes may well determine who wins when council elects its 1979-80 leader tomorrow afternoon in Newmarket.

that incumbent Garfield Wright will have to play catch-up if he hopes to retain the seat he has man eight years ago. held since 1970.

Both candidates believe they can count on 10 or 11 votes. Sources indicate that both camps may be counting on the same two representatives.

council - Mayor Forhan revealed. definitely has the edge. The Liberal poll shows he has eight in the Wright camp.

The Liberal they're undecided, while the remaining three refuse DiGiannantonio of Vaughan, who to say where they stand.

One factor which may bear

Association supports cops

York Regional Police officers who plan to take legal action against citizens will have the support of the police association, the new president, Sgt. John Moorhead, said this week.

Specifically, he said, four police officers are planning to issue writs against Douglas Sheldrake, the ex-cop who accused some York policemen of various wrongdoings last sum-enough," Moorhead said. He said that in the past a police officer was left on his own if he elected to bring legal actions against anyone.

"The men figure they've taken

"It has never been tried before," he said, "but now the association will support the men, handling legal fees and other necessary requirements.'

"They're both great guys,"

She's followed by Vaughan Mayor Garnet Williams, a Wright Several regional councillors supporter. If the vote is tight, their two votes could conceivably keep the incumbent in office.

Whatever the outcome, the poll makes it clear that Mr. Wright faces a tough battle to But the Liberal poll indicates retain the seat he has held since the provincial government appointed him York's first chair-

Mayor Forhan, who began lobbying well before the Nov. 13 municipal elections, capitalizing on the growing disenchantment with Mr. Wright. votes - those of the Georgina He said yesterday he is "gratified" at the results of The But in the race for the magic Liberal poll, but feels confident nine-vote total - the simple he'll garner at least two or three majority of the 17-member more votes than the survey

Key votes in tomorrow's balloting are held by the new committed votes, with only three Georgina representatives, Mayor Joe Dales and Councillor Michael Three other councillors told McDonald, neither of whom would reveal his position; Dario says he's undecided; Mrs. Mr. Wright would have to Walker, who apparently will marshal all six of those uncertain check the scoreboard before votes to keep his seat, while casting her vote; and Richmond Mayor Forhan need only pick up Hill Mayor David Schiller, who one of the six to win the chair- says he's "leaning one way" but still hasn't made up his mind.

Mayor Schiller, never an heavily on the outcome is the ardent supporter of Mr. Wright's alphabetical order in which the leadership, nonetheless is not members of council cast their committing himself to Mayor voice votes. Alma Walker of Forhan, at least not yet. For him, Markham, for example, will be one important consideration is next-to-last in the roll call. She the candidates' "specific comsays she won't decide who to mitment and willingness to see the official plan passed".

"I'm going to be looking for the candidate who would be most capable of, and interested in, getting the official plan approved," Mayor Schiller said.

Eldred King, the new mayor of Whitchurch-Stouffville, refused to divulge his stand, but says he feels the decision "is very difficult for the new members coming in."

"I don't think the region's necessarily functioning the way it should," Mayor King said. "But I don't know whether it's the chairman's fault or not."

His comments were echoed by another council rookie, Mr. DiGiannantonio, who said he's still "debating in my mind" who to vote for. The decision is especially vexing because he has not worked with either candidate, he said.

Richmond Hill Councillor Gordon Rowe will nominate Mr. Wright, while Markham Mayor Tony Roman is expected to nominate Mayor Forhan.

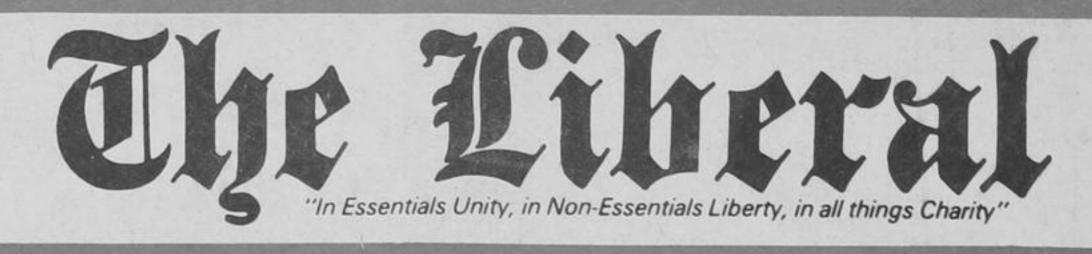

easily be the scene inside Marshal Matt Dillon's office after he forced all them mean cowpokes to check their irons before heading to the saloon. In this photo, Ontario Provincial Police Don't constable Gord Wells checks some of the 35 firearms that were handed in to the Oak Ridges shoot detachment last month. Most came in during the final week of the amnesty program. While police are happy with the response, they still believe only a fraction of the illegal weapons have been turned in. (Liberal photo by Bruce said.

Hogg)

If it wasn't for the officer's uniform, this could

Richmond Edition

A Metrospan Community Newspaper

Wednesday, December 13, 1978

32 pages

Price 20 cents

Officials check damage to this twin-engine Cessna which made an emergency landing on Markham Road in Richmond Hill's east end

Thursday morning. Pilot neatly placed the troubled aircraft on the two-lane highway avoiding several hydro lines. Plane did sever a guy wire, causing damage to a wing and propellor. None of the five people on board were hurt. (Liberal photo by Bruce Hogg)

Engine trouble forces light plane to highway

Rush-hour traffic problems in Richmond Hill are bad enough but motorists near Markham Road and Leslie Street got a bit of a shock last Thursday morning when a Cessna 411 aircraft parked itself in the middle of the

The twin-engine plane, owned by Konvey Construction Company Limited in Unionville, had just taken off from Buttonville Airport when it developed engine trouble, according to a spokesman for the Ministry of Transport.

It was en route to Elliot Lake wire causing about $10,000 tried flying back to Buttonville." with five passengers when the damage to the left wing and pilot felt it was necessary to make an emergency landing.

land without injuring any of the passengers but on the way down, the plane clipped a hydro guide was possible, I would like to have Transport Officials.

propeller.

Pilot Keith Gilbert was able to flight, the police kept me too busy back to the airport and an into think about what had hap- vestigation of the incident will be pened," said Mr. Gilbert. "If it carried out by Ministry of York Regional Police and "Even though it was a short mechanics towed the Cessna

Some go up, some go down

Equalization of hydro rates throughout the new town of Richmond Hill has resulted in an increase of about 12.8 per cent for some parts of town and a decrease for other areas.

The 1979 rate schedule for the restructured hydro commission of Richmond Hill, which includes receive some alleviation from the Commission, said the changes rates," said Mr. Cook who was customers formerly covered by high rural rates they have been are long overdue and reasonable missions of Richmond Hill and from Richmond Hill and Vaughan, has now been approved Vaughan will experience inby Ontario Hydro.

Former Ontario Hydro Sam Cook, chairman of the new creases of about 12.8 per cent.

Ontario Hydro for power.

"We have been striving for of local utilities. several years to take over the Hydro customers within the town customers within the town will Richmond Hill Hydro Electric and bring about uniformity of the chairman of a region-wide Ontario Hydro and the com- paying while existing customers in light of increased costs from hydro study committee which recommended the restructuring

Mayor Dave Schiller, also on the new commission said the increase in the rates in the central section of town was generally in line with the predictions of the restructuring study, and therefore acceptable.

Mr. Cook said he feels the overall picture for 1979 is "excellent", considering the increase in costs from Ontario Hydro totals 13 per cent.

The chairman also indicated that the restructuring transition has been progressing quite

On January 1 the Richmond Hill utility will double · its customers to 12,000 and will increase its service area by 12

"We do not anticipate any major problems as a result, but are hopeful that our customers will bear with us when the physical changeover takes place," said Mr. Cook.

"Ripoff" - Hicks says

Cable TV rates too high

A dispute often has three sides. Residents living in the senior citizen housing complex at 75 Dunlop Street in Richmond Hill wish to have cable television service installed in the building. Classic Communications Limited, suppliers in Richmond Hill, offered the service at $7 per month with a $12.50 installation charge — the same price any must pay. Senior citizens living in this lot," said Mrs. Tocher. building are upset saying other seniors in Ontario Housing in Newmarket and Aurora are paying only $3.50 or $4 per month for the same service. "It's a complete rip off," said resident Don Hicks. Florence Tocher said, "We want the service, but not at that

Mrs. Tocher said rent in the building had gone up, telephone charges increased and now with the cable charge, seniors on small pensions would have expenses over $100.

Not all residents in the building at 75 Dunlop Street are opposed to the charge.

"I'm willing to pay," said Tony

No room for old station on GO Transit property

and Newkirk Roads.

ball-game negotiations with the Local Architectural Conservation Advisory Committee, CN Railway, TATOA, and private enterprise.

the suggestion the station building be moved to the parking lot either as a restaurant or integrated into the GO system as a waiting room or information kiosk for Richmond Hill.

Manager of Marketing for TATOA, Ernest Madden, said plant staff reviewed the blueprints and plans for the regional road and found it was not going to be physically practical to locate the building on that property because of the widening of Markham Road, called for in construction of the LACAC sent a note suggesting the Richmond Hill station be left in place and utilized for commercial purposes as the move within Richmond Hill seemed impossible at this time.

David Fayle, chairman of LACAC said there was nothing more could be done now, "the ball is now in CN's hands," he

A letter from Robert Doty,

There is just not going to be regional manager of governroom for the historic CN mental and community relations Railways station house on GO at CN, in November, said he was Transit property at Markham not prepared to recommend the location on Station Street for That is the latest decision in the commercial use because of safety hazards, but would personally review the situation and advise further. Dr. Fayle said LACAC suggested the erection of a fence LACAC approached GO with for safety purposes and would provide a waiting room for CN's customers.

"We are now awaiting his reply giving concrete reasons, in writing," he said.

If that doesn't work, said Dr Fayle, the availability of the station house would be publicized and if nobody in the community comes up with something further, the CN is not prepared to accept commercial use - then CN will be free to demolish it.

Man killed

York Region recorded its seventh traffic fatality yesterday morning when police discovered the body of a 20-year-old man lying near Bayview Avenue and Markham Road.

A spokesman for York Regional Police said positive identification had not been made by press time, though they are treating the case as a hit-and-run accident.

Crossley, "because I'm sick of municipalities will be free to looking at the snow (referring to charge the going rate. the poor reception from the existing aerial)" Joe Horne is worried the publicity and refusal of some residents could mean the service would not go into the building.

"Looks to me like they'll can the whole thing because of some." he said.

Tom Surgeoner, housing "That doesn't leave a heck of a manager for OHC in Newmarket, said the senior citizens referred to in Newmarket and Aurora received cable service at $3.50 because the cable company had entered into a bulk agreement > with OHC. This agreement says OHC will pay the cable company $3.50 for each unit in a building and collect $3.50 from each unit - a compulsory payment.

Mr. Surgeoner pointed out Classicomm in Richmond Hill will wire the building under a "rights agreement" and charge the tenants directly.

This is a "private deal" said Mr. Surgeoner, where residents can take the service if they wish, but are not compelled to take it.

The Liberal approached John Graham, director of Classicomm who explained his company policy is not to enter into a bulk agreement with anyone hospitals, schools or special housing. "We know many cannot afford cable," he said, "not just senior

Mr. Graham said because of this fact his company maintained a standard approach to everyone. Classicomm will be wiring every apartment in the building at 75 Dunlop Street, regardless of how many join up or take the

The director of Classicomm said he or another member of his staff would be more than willing to meet with the residents to explain the company's position. Trevor Jones, area manager for OHC stressed one more side to the problem. OHC is getting away from entering into bulk agreements with cable companies. The program now, "right across the board", is to enter into a rights agreement, letting the cable company charge the tenant directly. When the bulk agreements expire, which could be as soon as 1979, said Mr. Jones, the cable companies

"The rates could conceivably go from $3.50 to the going rate in Newmarket, which is $6.50", he

Residents concerned about the availability and condition of the existing aerial, if they do not choose to hook-up to cable, are advised by Mr. Jones that OHC will maintain the aerial. "It will always be in place so there is no obligation to take cable," he said.

Community Pulse

Students host seniors

Christmas is the time of year when young and old can share many things, especially music. Students at Roselawn Public School will play host to 150 senior citizens at a concert on Thursday December 21 at 2 p.m. A special treat for the seniors will be refreshments prepared and served by the students.

Sunday at the fights

Peace on earth there may be, but not in North Bay Sunday night. That's when the Richmond Hill Rams Provincial Junior A hockey team clashed (and we mean clashed) with the North Bay Trappers. So many players were expelled from the game in the second period there weren't enough left to finish the game. All the details are in Fred Simpson's story on Page B-1.

Who has a concertina?

Richmond Hill Curtain Club needs to borrow a concertina for its next production "Major Barbara". What's a concertina? Well, it's a musical instrument of the accordion family. If you happen to have one, Joan Ryland at 884-2917 would like to hear from you. The sooner the Curtain Club gets it, the sooner the musician can learn to play it.

Hospital wins letter

Have you looked into the sky lately as you've been driving north on Yonge or Bathurst Streets to Richmond Hill? If you had, you would have noticed the beautiful new 'H' sign mounted high on the southern exposure of York Central Hospital. Since the 'H' is the international symbol for hospitals, anyone looking for York Central, should be able to find it without any stopping to ask directions.

Blood clinic - Dec. 19 at St. Mary Immaculate