Y's treasure & trivia becomes a garage sale

York Region Family 'Y' has decided it must change with the times.

For many years, each May the 'Y' held its annual Treasure and Trivia Sale, in the Lions Hall on Centre Street.

This year on Saturday, May 26, they will hold a Garage Sale on their own front lawn at 83 Dunlop Street.

Margaret Collett, Chairman of the Board for York Region Family 'Y', said garage sales are more popular now and although the Treasure and Trivia Sale was always held at mid-week, the 'Y' will change with the times and hold a Garage Sale on Saturday, so it does not limit the number of people who can attend.

Donations for the Garage Sale may be brought to the Family 'Y' on Dunlop Street in Richmond Hill or residents could call 884-4811 for pick-up.

As this is the Family 'Y's main fund raising event Mrs. Collett said she hopes people will support them both with donations and by turning out the day of the big event.

No charge for seniors

on late books

Effective yesterday Richmond Hill Public Library has eliminated fines on overdue materials borrowed by Senior Citizens.

Maureen Stephenson, Administrative Assistant at the Main Branch, said the Library Board realized that in inclement weather and in cases of sickness, patrons have experienced difficulty in travelling to the Library.

In adopting this "fine free" policy, the Board hopes to alleviate the worry associated with returning books by the date due, she said.

Two different menus are offered, the L'Auberge Richelieu will remain a prix fixe five course dinner. For a reasonable price you can feast on Bouillabaisse Cardinal, Canard Roti Aux Peches, Noisette De Veau Normande, Cailles Au Raisins or Civet De Lapin, or you can enjoy a lighter La Carte meal at La Petit Salle, such as seafood crepes, Coquilles St. Jacques or a large Caesar Salad (for two).
