Vacation Special for over fifties

By ANNE WANSTALL
Travel Editor

A low-cost vacation for the senior (over 50) traveller is being offered by Senior Skylark. The package includes return airfare, seven nights apartment accommodation, sightseeing tour, shopping trip, a Casino show and a barbecue dinner with live entertainment in Paradise Island, Bahamas.

Costs start at $289 per person (twin occupancy, studio apartment) for a June 10 departure, and move up to $329 for an Aug. 19 departure.

Recently in the Bahamas, Travelchat looked over the apartments on Paradise Island. They're quietly situated (but not exactly on the beach) and well-appointed. The big disadvantage is that shopping must be done in Nassau which is over a toll bridge from Paradise Island. Most holidaymakers get to Nassau by bus, then return by taxi with their purchases. The cost of the toll — also charged to pedestrians — is $2 return trip that must be added to the cab fare.

The apartments have a pool and are close to the Casino and restaurants. Make reservations through your travel agent.

VIA Rail is offering 30 excursions to Churchill on the shore of Hudson Bay this year, taking passengers from Winnipeg to beyond the tree line.

A travel colleague took the tour some years ago and reported back that it was "simply fabulous" and offering all kinds of interest.

The trip to the tundra costs $495 from Winnipeg and includes rail fare and sleeping car accommodation, all meals, hotel accommodation at Ft. Flon, sightseeing excursions and all gratuities. Get information from your travel agent or VIA Rail.

Two cruise ships, each taking only 36 passengers, are now regularly touring the Bahama Out Islands from Nassau.

Basically driven by wind-power, the Vela and the Lyra offer cruise-liner comfort and the ability to visit small off-the-beaten-track islands. Cost of a one-week cruise out of Nassau is $460 U.S. per person.

Niagara Falls has a new attraction. Opening June 22, Maple Leaf Village will offer a shopping-dining-entertainment complex.

Vacationers planning a trip to Britain should get a list of useful travel guides from the British Tourist Authority to avoid missing anything of special interest. The BTA doesn't sell the books, but will provide a list of what's available and approved and where they can be obtained. The BTA office is at 151 Bloor St. West, Toronto.
