Rain mops up Hill tennis

By ERIC BRADBURY
Two people will breathe a sigh of relief now that this weekend is over.
Bill Armstrong and Kieran Lennon of the Richmond Hill Tennis Club organized the I.C.T.A. Men's Singles Tournament which was played between showers with volunteers working hard to mop up flooded courts.
In this instance the club should have presented the organizers with a trophy for beating the rain gods in the final.
The Inter-county event was won by Mark Girdler of Richmond over Paul Beck, also of Richmond Hill, 6-2, 6-3.

Mark has been playing great tennis throughout this season and his semi-final win over Hani Ayoub, ranked number one in Class A, was probably one of the hardest fought and most exciting matches this club has had for a long time.
COACHING
Many club members have no doubt wished for the opportunity of attending one of the many coaching camps that are advertised throughout the country and particularly in the United States.

These members will be interested in a weekend which has been organized by the executive for Saturday and Sunday, August 11-12.
Two professional coaches have been hired from the Ontario Tennis Association and we shall be running a camp with six to eight hours of comprehensive coaching on each day.
Films will be shown in the clubhouse to illustrate the fine points of the game and the executive is hopeful it will have video tape available to show and maybe correct individual faults.

The numbers of people that can take a part in this program are, of course, limited and members that are interested should contact Pat Lohman, who is in charge of player development, as soon as possible at 884-7700.
The house league is now well underway and we understand that the team, 'Magnificent Obsession', which was having trouble at the beginning being either magnificent or obsessed, is now in the lead. What's in a name? Myrna Willison, we suspect.
