Students must learn to stick with job

Canada Employment Centre for Students in Richmond Hill has an important message for students seeking employment this summer. "They must realize that when they enter into a commitment to work — they should carry it through," said Monica Janach, supervisor at the centre.

Miss Janach said there has been some problem of students not sticking with jobs entered into — jobs that are repetitive in nature or where work must be done under "less than ideal conditions".

"They don't realize this gives bad publicity to students as a whole," she said, "by not living up to their commitment they undo the positive things others have done."

This week the student employment centre is looking for students 19 years or older for waitress-type of jobs where they would be able to serve liquor.

Students over 17 years and holding a Bronze Medallion Swimming Award are also invited to apply for four lifeguard positions still available.

Community Guide Additions

Vaughan Community Information

Help Information and Referral Centre, 182 Woodbridge Avenue, Woodbridge, is a free and confidential service for residents in the Town of Vaughan. The office is open 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday to Friday, providing community resources information.

Other services include bulletin board listings for accommodation and job opportunities, babysitter contacts, referrals to social agencies (marital problems, debt counselling, legal aid, etc.). Emergency transportation by volunteer drivers is provided, also meals-on-wheels and other services for seniors and shut-ins.

Help's volunteer bureau directs prospective volunteers to work in areas of their choice with the information centre or other agencies. It sponsors weekly programs for mothers and pre-schoolers and has a depot for good used clothing and small household goods which are available at little or no cost by agency referrals.

Fund raising activities include a book sale in April and "penny-wise" sale of good used clothing, etc. April and October.

An Italian speaking worker is on staff. Director is Helen Pouis, Telephone 851-2333.

York Family Y

The Y has its program house and administrative headquarters at 83 Dunlop Street, Richmond Hill, right in the centre of town.

The office is open 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. Monday to Friday, and 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Saturday.

Two telephone numbers enable people from most parts of the region to call the Y directly. They are 884-4811 and 773-4591.

A summer day camp is operated at Whitchurch Conservation Area, four miles east of Aurora.

As well, junior camps are operated in the summer in Richmond Hill, Thornhill and Aurora.

A Riding Camp will be offered this year at Redstone Farms, east of Bayview on the 18th Line.

Year round activities include a full day care centre, a morning nursery school, a health club for men, women and youths 14 years of age and over, physical education classes, craft classes and weekend activities for children.

Classes in the Family Y Centre are enhanced by full locker rooms, showers, saunas and a gymnasium.

Funds to support Y programs are obtained from program fees, voluntary community contributions, and grants.

Parent Concern

Parent Concern; entering its fifth year in October; is a weekly self-help, help each other group for parents, who feel overwhelmed by parent-child stress. These people fear their children bear the brunt of their frustrations.

The group can help those, who feel confused, guilty or frightened about their parental feelings and behavior.

Parent Concern encourages members to sort through feelings of inadequacy, frustration, low self esteem and to stimulate positive feelings about themselves.

Parents can find warmth, caring and support in the group.

There are no fees or dues to belong to Parent Concern. For information, call Joyce at 884-3503 or call 967-7227.
