OMB hearing decision is reserved
Last week an Ontario Municipal Board (OMB) hearing was held at the municipal offices concerning rezoning in the Richvale area.
This particular hearing was to hear objections to rezoning in the area from Carrville Road and Yonge Street to the south side of Oak Avenue.
The town has made zoning changes reducing the frontage and square footage requirements to make way for redevelopment of the area.
Although originally there were four objections registered from residents not wanting to change the character of the area, only two showed up at the hearing.
Vice-Chairman of the OMB, Donald Diplock, chairing the hearing in Richmond Hill, reserved his decision, advising staff and residents he would hand down a decision as quickly as possible.
