

Male strippers do not impress regional police

York Regional Police have been attending performances of male strippers at the Richmond Inn and they have not been impressed. On Tuesday, July 17 'Screwy Louey', a male stripper was arrested and charged with an immoral theatrical performance. At the same time, an assistant manager of the Richmond Inn was charged with permitting an immoral theatrical performance. Last week, the performer was 'Mister Tease' and once again, police were in the audience. When Mr. Tease invited some ladies in the audience to join him on stage, police arrested him and charged him with an immoral theatrical performance. Also arrested were Mr. Tease's manager and the manager of the Richmond Inn. Mr. Tease's manager was charged with being an agent for an immoral performance and the Richmond Inn manager was charged with permitting an immoral theatrical performance. All appeared in provincial court in Richmond Hill and were remanded until August, when they will appear again.
