day camp parents

Parents' Night at the York Region Family 'Y' was attended by parents of more than 100 children. Whitchurch Conservation Area was turned into an Indian compound for the evening, last Thursday, as the children and their counsellors portrayed Canadian Indians for the audience. The children were dressed as little Indians and counsellors outdid themselves with authentic looking outfits. Games and skits were in keeping with the evening's theme, and the children, with a counsellor's assistance demonstrated some.

Indian skills. The weather turned a little cooler for the evening, and the dancing was, maybe, just a little more enthusiastic. The better to keep warm. Some of the skits were designed to show the parents that the children have learned how to behave in a camp atmosphere, with emphasis on cleanliness, safety and fun. The Family 'Y' conducts a series of day camps for children, each of two weeks duration. Additional information about how you can register your children for one of the remaining sessions, please call 884-4811.

Contact

While the three areas of Richmond Hill each have their own column on this page — North, Central, and South — it's nice to know they're finally all being compiled by the same person. So it's easy to get your news into its proper area. Millie Stewart, a veteran correspondent with The Liberal, started out handling Richmond Hill North; completely initiated the Richmond Hill Central column; and has now taken on the handling of Richmond Hill South.

She's available Fridays and Mondays at The Liberal, 884-8177 or 881-3373.

Church are reminded that summer services will be held at Maple United Church for the months of July and August.
