

Family Services hires researcher

Lillian Silver, of Willowdale, has joined the Richmond Hill and Thornhill Area Family Service's staff working as a Family Life Education researcher.

She is employed under the agency's Canada Works Project.

She will be analyzing the results of an agency questionnaire which was circulated throughout the community earlier this year.

The questionnaire asked people about the kinds of social service programs they would use that are not already present in the community.

Mrs. Silver will be looking for significant trends in her analysis such as the relationships between the particular family situation of the respondent and the social service programs they would like to have available to them.

For example, she will be looking to see if single parents are interested in programs that are different from the ones that suit parents from a two-parent family home.

She will write up a final report based on her findings.

The report will give Family Services a better idea of the kinds of family life education programs they can offer based on community need.

Mrs. Silver has a Bachelors Degree in Psychology from York University and has many years' experience in business.

The Canada Works Project will continue until October 1979.

The Canada Works Program is funded by the Federal Government. Family Services is a member of the United Way of York Region.
