Homestead store opens tomorrow

The newest Homestead Plumbing Warehouse will open in Richmond Hill tomorrow. Headed by Manager Jon Wood, the new store is located at 70 Newkirk Road. During the three-day opening celebration, the company will offer door prizes, McDonald's Gift Certificates, balloons, coffee and donuts. The Homestead store came into existence about three years ago. Due to a misconception that plumbers were charging a fortune for jobs people could do themselves, people began using major chain stores to purchase home improvement and repair needs. The solution for the plumbing contractor was the Homestead concept. That concept revolved around the involvement of master plumbers backed by the strength of traditional wholesalers. Basically, the idea meant converting the plumber's shop into a consumer oriented retail store. Such an outlet, operated by an experienced, knowledgeable plumber had obvious advantages over the novice sales clerk system of mass merchandisers. The experienced plumber could explain in detail to customers the proper approach to any do-it-yourself project and ensure that correct purchases were made. Also, if the job turned out to be more than the customer expected, the plumber could make a trade call. Barrie Supply began testing the idea of retailing plumbing and electrical goods in 1975. Within a year, its success prompted inquiries about franchises. Two were added in July, 1976, and during the fall of that year, seven more local plumbers were approached by or recommended to Barrie Supply. Richmond Hill's store is located on Newkirk, south of Crosby, north of Centre.

"There Goes The Bride" starts Curtain Club's 25th season in town

Getting ready to kick off its 25th season, the Richmond Hill Curtain Club will open with the play "There Goes The Bride", by Ray Cooney and John Chapman.

It promises to be a hilarious comedy in the best British tradition the Curtain Club is famous for producing.

Readings for parts in Classicomm has a spot

for any group

Classicomm Cable T.V. has air time available and you or your organization might be able to take advantage of the summer slump.

If you are an individual or a member of a community organization, and you are planning something you think the viewers would be interested in seeing, Classicomm wants to hear from you.

Camera and production crews will be more than willing to have a look at your activity, and if it's what they're looking for, you may get to be on television.

For additional information about how you can become an instant star, please call Dot at 884-8111 extension 51.

The play will be held at the club, Newkirk at Elgin Mills East, on August 12 and 13 at 7.30 p.m.

The cast consists of four men and four women.

The males are in the 40 to late 50 age group, and one must have an Australian accent, or a reasonable facsimile thereof.

The ladies, two are in their early 20s, and one will have the ability to do a song and dance in the Roaring Twenties manner; while the other two are older and more mature, one about 40 and the other nearly 60.

Producing the play will be Marie Nickel (884-9088) while Brian J. Moore (884-2638) will direct.

Brian successfully directed "The Effect of Gamma Rays on the Man in the Moon Marigolds" and "How the Other Half Loves".

Readings are open to all club members; and new memberships may be obtained during readings. Anyone interested should contact either Brian or Marie for further details.

The show opens September 27.
