Helpmate offers advice and information

These smiling members of the Richvale Lions Majorette Corps are (left to right) Debbie Boos, 16; Kelly Barbeau, 10; Tara Kaszuba, 10; Susan Tompkins, 8; Michelle Dennis, 8; and Jeanette Dennis, 5. The girls brought home these trophies from two competitions held this summer.

Many new families have moved into the Oak Ridges area in the past few months, and some are finding it a little difficult adjusting to a new community. Helpmate is an organization with help for those who need it.

Their services are many and diverse. If you need the name of a doctor or dentist, a lawyer or anyone else along those lines, they can help.

Advice on dealing with various levels of government is another way Helpmate can help you.

Your privacy is always respected and all calls are confidential. If you would like more information about the services offered by Helpmate or if you are looking for an outlet for your volunteer services, please call them at 883-2234.

DAY NURSERY
It's just about time

for school to start back for the fall season, and some parents may still be wondering what to do with pre-schoolers.

Mrs. Jean McWhir of King City operates a day nursery for children aged two to five. Her nursery runs from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday to Friday.

If interested, please give her a call at 833-6385.

WHEELHOUSE CLUB
The members of the Wheelhouse Club for senior citizens are settled nicely into their new club rooms at 12 King Side Road.

Thanks must go to several members, who worked at making the club rooms comfortable.

Roy Barnsdale, Art Baisley, Walter Paxton and several ladies of the club spent many days fixing the interior of the club rooms, so it would seem like home. Wednesday afternoon euchres at the club have gained in popularity this summer.

Everyone is welcome to attend these afternoon sessions.

The time is fast approaching when all normal activities resume for the fall and winter months.

If your organization needs new members or has a registration date within the next few weeks, please let me know and it will appear in this column, so that the rest of the community is kept up to date.
