

Loblaws talking turkey this week

Loblaws at Hillcrest Mall has been selected as one of 10 Loblaws stores to promote a new product from Cuddy Food Products Limited of London, Ontario. The new products are 100 per cent turkey meat and are processed to taste just like ham, kielbassa, (polish sausage), salami and more. Studies by the Government of Canada have shown that roast turkey is higher in protein than any other cooked meat. What Cuddy Foods is doing with these new products, is showing the consumer that turkey can be made to taste any way you want it to, while still retaining its high protein content at a lower price per package than other similar tasting products. The same taste you've always loved, but at a saving; the consumer should grab these products and run. As well as its high protein content, turkey is lowest in cholesterol of all popular meats and the very lowest of all meats in calories. People on restricted diets should appreciate both of the above and should use turkey more in their menu planning. Now that turkey is available with a variety of tastes, menu planning should also be a little easier. Shoppers in Hillcrest Mall are encouraged to drop by Loblaws and sample some of the new products for themselves. Included in the new line of products are turkey steakettes and burgers.

Stong approves bicycle path

Local MLA, Alf Stong said he congratulates those in Richmond Hill who came up with the idea for a bicycle path on the east side of Yonge Street. "It's a tremendous idea," he said, to give the children in the Richvale area an opportunity to enjoy functions in the town park and arena, or even visit the movie theatre in town. The Ministry of Transportation and Communications refused a request from the town to pay for the path but said they were prepared to include grading for it in their reconstruction of Yonge Street. An asphalt trail was to run from Highway 7 north to Major Mackenzie Dr. Although this area has now been pretty well completed, with sodding now in place, Mr. Stong does not see any problem in asking the ministry to construct the pathway. Our provincial representative said he will arrange a meeting with the minister to discuss the problem in Richmond Hill as soon as Commissioner of Parks and Recreation Dave Hamilton, returns from holidays, which will be September 4.
