

"There Goes The Bride"

They'll be rolling in the aisles five minutes after show starts

There's a romp going on at the Richmond Hill Curtain Club.

"There Goes the Bride" will open the season September 27 for a three-week run.

It was easy for the cast to get into the mood for this hilarious English farce.

Director Brian J. Moore says "the audience will be rolling in the aisles", and undoubtedly they will within the first five minutes of the play.

An added bonus for this 25th Anniversary Season will be various opportunities to participate in the celebrations.

During this first play, a picture, from a previous production, will be on display in the lobby of the theatre.

This could be your chance to select a costume of your choice, from the vast wardrobe department, and have your picture taken in it.

The idea is to correctly identify the performers who portrayed the characters in the play.

When the winner is drawn they will be photographed in the costume of their choice and presented with the picture to commemorate the occasion.

To reserve tickets for "There Goes The Bride", call Marge Nicholson at 884-3703.

All-star cast picked for play

"There Goes the Bride" is going to be a hit for The Curtain Club, and director, Brian J. Moore has chosen an all-star cast to make sure of it.

Rehearsals are well under way. The cast includes Dilys Rubow as the mother of the bride; Christine Leonard as the bride; Clive Ryland will play the grandfather, and Stephen Turl will take on the role of father of the bride.

Brian Stainer will put in his appearance as the father's business partner and friend of the family. Pera Miller will appear as the grandmother. Diane Day will be Polly Perkins and Derek Miller will appear as the bridegroom's father.

Opening night is Thursday, September 27, and the cast and production crews are busy doing their part to make sure everything is ready for the opening night curtain.

Some props are still needed and if you have a grey top hat or a feather boa to lend, please call 884-9088.

All property will be returned to the owners.

Tickets are selling quickly, but you can reserve yours by calling 884-3703.
