Construction woes increase on two streets

Enford Road in Richmond Hill is a mess — and Industrial Road is not much better. permitting, construction told that one lane for will be complete in about two weeks, he said. Contractors have been traffic must be maintained at all times during construction.

The town engineering department originally planned only to re-surface the two roads, but later decided to bring them up to urban standards, meaning the addition of storm sewers, curbs and gutters.

As these improvements were more costly, reconstruction went over budget and now only the main part of each road will be complete — Industrial Road from Yonge Street east to Enford Road, and Enford Road from Industrial Road north to Elgin Mills. Six business owners in the area came before engineering committee last Thursday asking when the town planned to finish what it started.

Commissioner of Works for the town, Bernie Toporowski, replied that the amount to reconstruct the two dead-end portions would be included in his department's 1980 budget figures.

Council will have to decide what will be included in the 1980 budget, he added, and the decision may not be forthcoming until February or March of 1980.

Engineering Administrator, Bud Newton, said contractors have completed storm sewers for the portion in question on both roads. Weather

THE MEWS

A SPECIAL OPPORTUNITY FOR SMALL SPECIALTY SHOPS AND ARTISANS IN THE EATON CENTRE

The Mews is a charming new retailing area planned for Eaton Centre in space that overlooks the magnificent Galleria.

Anchored by a fabulous emporium-style restaurant and a famous French cafe, this theme development will fast become a major Toronto attraction within Eaton Centre.

The ambience at The Mews will be "old world". Its passageways will be flanked by the red brick facades of art galleries, artisans' studios, antique, gourmet and gift shops. More than 500,000 shoppers come to Eaton Centre every week, presenting an outstanding market for Mews merchants.

If you are presently operating a shop that seems right for The Mews, or have an idea that might be, contact Ernest W. Booth, Leasing Manager, The Cadillac Fairview Corporation Limited, Suite 210, The Eaton Centre, 200 Yonge Street, Toronto, Ontario, M5B 2H1. Phone (416) 979-3300.

New dogcatcher for Hill

On January 1, 1980, the Town of Richmond Hill will have a new dog catcher.

Three companies submitted bids this year for the control of animals in the town, and council Monday night decided on Kennel Inn Animal Control Centre in Aurora because it will cost the town $14,226 less than Ryan's Animal Control which has served the community for many years.

This year tenderers were asked to submit costs for two and three year contracts for both 60 and 80 hours of patrol.

Tenders for the first year, on a three year contract, were as follows: Kennel Inn, $45,200; Richmond Hill Veterinary Holdings Limited, $50,000; and Ryan's Animal Control, $59,400.

Kennel Inn also serves the towns of Aurora, King, Whitchurch, Stouffville and Bradford. They have bid for the Richmond Hill contract three times unsuccessfully in the past.

Services contracted for include patrols from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m., 24 hour emergency service, the answering of complaints and wild life calls and a dog pound to hold animals for owners to claim.

Clerk of the town, Dave Weldon, said additional hours of patrolling over and above the 60 hours were included in the contract to allow flexibility of staff calling for extra patrols when necessary.
