Off-street parking

As perennial as the recommendation this time" and added "let's make sure it's done correctly."
 A committee was set up with two council members, Councillor Dave Amos and Councillor Dave Barrow, (both Yonge Street businessmen) and two staff members, Mr. Toporowski and Mr. Perkins.
 Merv Perkins, Maintenance Manager for the town felt the study should be held off until Yonge Street south of Highway 7 is complete as well as Highway 404 to Markham Road as he expected there would be an increase in traffic when these roads were complete.
 At an engineering committee meeting last week councillors Gord Rowe, Bill Corcoran, and Dave Amos agreed the town needs off street parking — to offer an alternative for the customers of main street businesses as well as relieve traffic bottlenecks.
 They all agreed it was a political decision but then passed it back to the Commissioner of Works, Bernie Toporowski.
 Councillor Corcoran, chairman of engineering committee, asked Mr. Toporowski to "come up with some concrete
