

Teachers get lots of help from Roselawn students

Teachers at Roselawn Public School in Richmond Hill are fortunate to have talented and willing assistants at their fingertips. The help comes from 16 Grade 8 students, who are part of a unique program of Student Leaders. Each student in the program must maintain a high academic standard, and if he or she finds a drop in grades, he or she may cut back on the amount of extra assistance given. The Student Leaders perform many varied duties in the school from assisting in the office to helping teach small or large groups. Some of the leaders prefer to give academic assistance in subjects they themselves excel in and others help in the physical education program. Other duties consist of planning activities for the younger students, dances for the Grades 7 and 8 students, and acting as guides when parents are visiting the school. The 16 students in the program this year are: Michele Andrews, Barbara Bayer, Henrietta Bristow, Heather Clugston, Terry Coles, Michelle Deaust, Kathy Hunter, Bill Keates, Bob Martin, Saveria Mazza, Blair Rudyk, D'arcy Sheppard, Michelle Simpson, Wendy Sneddon, Sharon Sutton and Keltie Thomas. The staff advisor to the Student Leaders in Miss Maryjane McKelvey, a Grade 7 teacher. Children in the younger Grades can receive individual attention from the Student Leaders, something not always possible in the larger classrooms. One of the boys, Blair Rudyk channels his interests into physical education and he has the ability to deal with boys of all ages. Michele Andrews excels in French and is able to help other students grasp the new language and better understand it. She will help any student from Grades 3 through 8 with problems in that area.

Others in the program devote their talents to English, Mathematics and other academic subjects and still others prefer to help in the special education classes. The teachers appreciate the extra help the Student Leaders can give and in turn, the young people benefit from the experience of helping.

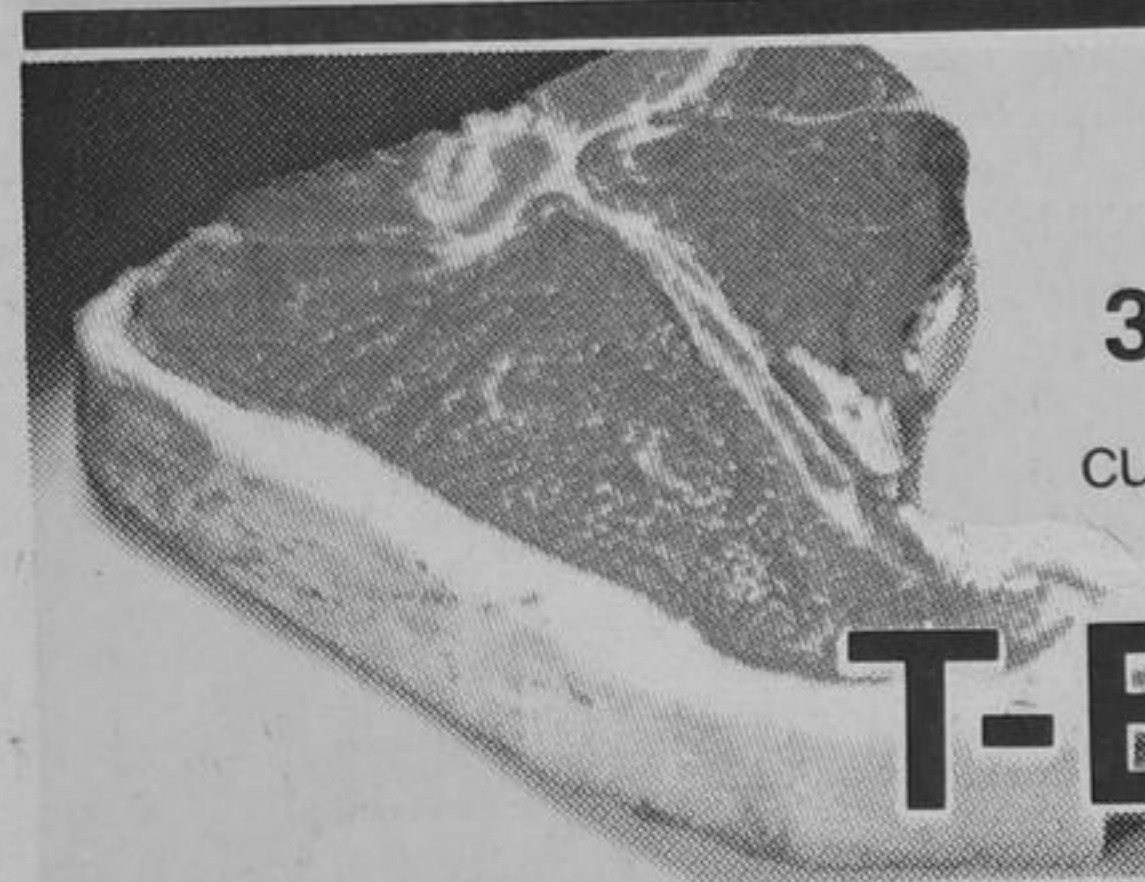

The Student Leaders sponsor several fund-raising ventures during the school year to raise funds for necessary equipment for the school and an award to be presented at the end of the year for good citizenship. At the end of the year, the teachers will present a Student Leader award to one of the team for outstanding assistance during the year. What the students learn from the experience of being Student Leaders will go with them to High School and benefit them throughout their chosen careers.
