

Police Briefs

There have been several housebreakings in the Markham and Thornhill areas during the past week.

On November 27 someone broke into the home of Rose Weiss on the Fifth Concession of Markham and took two stereo speakers, a quantity of jewelry and two leather coats.

Also on November 27, someone broke into the home of Sidney Lambersky, 4 Aberfeldy Crescent, Thornhill and took cash and some jewelry.

On December 2 someone took a bank, a ring and some food from the Thornhill home of Harry Goodfield, 113 Babcombe Drive.

Between November 23 and December 1 someone broke into the home of Kenneth Cox, 116 Robinson Street, Markham and took a quantity of silver. The value of the missing items is not known at this time.

Another housebreaking, this time in Vaughan, netted the thieves a color TV and a marble clock from the home of Malcolm Sinclair, 1180 Ruherford Road.

Two more housebreakings occurred in the Thornhill area over the weekend. On November 29, someone broke into the home of Douglas Smale, 84 Porterfield Crescent and took an unknown quantity of cash and jewelry.

And on November 30, a large quantity of gold jewelry and diamonds was taken from the home of Frances Adelman, 5 Bucks Green Road.

MAIL HEIST

A Woodbridge man has been arrested and charged with possession of mail bags as a result of a police investigation in September.

He will appear in court January 11.

CHURCH BRAWL

A 18-year-old Markham man has been charged with assault causing bodily harm after he became involved with another man in an argument at St. Patrick's Church, Markham on November 18.

The victim, Kenneth Bennett of 25 Friar Tuck Road, Markham suffered injuries to the head and rib areas and was taken to hospital by ambulance.

The accused will appear in court December 11.

TRI-BELL THEFT

Maureen Gibson of Bolton is missing a $1,400 fur coat, which she left in the coat room at the Tri-Bell Club on Bathurst Street on December 1. Police are investigating.

Jean and Norman Sinclair of Lennox Avenue, Richmond Hill celebrated 50 years of marriage November 30. A gala celebration was held Saturday at Arc Industries. The Sinclairs have lived in Richmond Hill since 1956. Present at the party were the three Sinclair children, their spouses and seven of nine grandchildren.
